OIL MAGNATE ATTORNEYS WAR WITH PROBERS

Challenge Whole Power of Senate Committee to Conduct Inquiry

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate, who leased Teapot Dome from Albert F. Fall, sat on the witness stand before the Senate oil investigating committee for two hours today and twiddled his thumbs while his lawyers wrangled with the senators on the committee over whether Sinclair had to testify.

No conclusion had been reached at the end of two hours' legal give and take, so at noon Sinclair stepped down from the stand and the committee adjourned until tomorrow when a decision will be forthcoming as to the committee's powers to compel Sinclair to testify.

Sinclair Smiles
Sinclair himself smilingly occupied the witness stand while his array of counsel, comprising Martin W. Littleton of New York; Colonel J. W. Zevely and G. T. Standorf, general counsel for the Sinclair interests, argued that the committee was without power to compel Sinclair to testify.

It was the oil magnate's sixth appearance on the stand in the oil investigation, but the first time since his return from Europe. It was during his absence that Archie Roosevelt and other witnesses "pried the lid off" Teapot Dome.

Challenges Power
Littleton challenged the whole power and jurisdiction of the Senate public lands committee. Littleton said that the Walsh resolution seeking annulment of the naval reserve leases "was a complete divestiture of powers of the committee, and of Congress."

Littleton held that the "right of congressional committees to subpoena witnesses and their records and books has never been sustained."

"If your contention is correct, no congressional committee can go ahead with its present investigations. We might as well close up and quit," Walsh finally interjected.

"The committee might as well quit unless they keep within their well defined powers," answered Littleton.

Grant Injunction. In Abrams College Fight
SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Another step had been made today in the fight over the two million dollar estate of Dr. Albert Abrams following the granting of an injunction to three executors of the estate to prevent the trustees of the Abrams college of electro-medicine from an alleged attempt to appropriate to themselves properties of the college valued at more than a million dollars.

Upton Sinclair, author, has resigned as a college trustee, it was learned today.

Would Raise Age Limit of Recruits
To American Navy

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Boys under 21 years of age would not be permitted to enlist in the United States navy without the written consent of their parents under a provision written into the naval appropriation bill this afternoon by the House. The present age limit is 18 years.

The new regulation was proposed by Representative Connelly, Democrat of Texas, and was adopted by a vote of 119 to 104.

ADVENTISTS ROTARIANS OF GUESTS AT STATEHOLD HOSPITAL MEETING

Leaders of Church Inspect Sanitarium Prior to Formal Opening

More than eighty prominent clergymen and other workers of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination located in different cities of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, were guests of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital in the new institution last night.

They arrived from Fresno, where they had been in attendance at the quadrennial convention of the Pacific Union conference, and Business Manager C. E. Kimlin urged them to make the new buildings their headquarters while here. They will continue to be guests of the institution until after the opening ceremonies, starting 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Many were the expressions of approval from these visitors. Only a few of the number had previously seen the new structures and they eagerly inspected every section from basement to roof. It was stated that these visitors will be willing advertisers of the institution when they return to (Continued on page 3)

IRELAND'S MUTINY THREATS WEAKEN

Many Soldiers Returning to Posts as Sympathy for Rebels Subsides

DUBLIN, March 21.—Troubles over the attempted mutiny of the Free State army which threatened to disrupt the government began to simmer down today.

Many soldiers who left the regular army out of sympathy for Major-General Liam Tobin and Colonel Dalton, leaders of the mutineer group, are returning. The government warned all the deserters to return to their posts by 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

While political animosity is keen, it is believed they will be fought out amicably in the forthcoming election rather than the revolt.

GALES MARK ENTRY OF SPRING

Blizzards Blanket Midwest
And Lake States In Mantle of Snow

Glendale enjoyed a rare treat this afternoon at 1:35 o'clock when flakes of snow began falling over the business district. A gentle rain had been falling for the half hour before and the temperature was normal.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Spring rode in on a blizzard which continued to sift snow and disburse gusty greetings today after laying a blanket of four inches over the midwest and Great Lakes territory yesterday.

Unlike its winter predecessors which moved down from the Canadian Northwest, the blustery season's finale came from the southwest, where Muskogee, Okla., reported sixteen inches of snow.

En route north and east, it reminded Missouri, Indiana, Illinois, and lower Michigan that coal supplies might yet call for reinforcement. St. Louis receiving four inches of sticky snow and southern Illinois cities a depth that blocked traffic. The northwest received none, nor did Nebraska and Iowa.

Promise of More
The prospects were for no let-up before night and a mild recurrence of winter's finale late this week or early next in a closing flurry of snow and sleet.

Bowling Record Goes In Chicago Congress

CHICAGO, March 21.—Arthur Ludvigson of Chicago broke the world's tournament singles record in the American bowling congress tourney this afternoon when he rolled 739. Ludvigson smashed his way into the lead with games of 247, 237 and 255, displacing Frank Kair, the former leader, by seven pins.

Ludvigson had only one open frame in his series. He missed the ten pin in the third frame of his final game.

INVITE U. S. TO MEET

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The United States government has been invited to send representatives to the third English speaking infant welfare conference at London next July. It was announced here today.

LATEST NEWS

SINCLAIR WILL REFUSE TO TESTIFY

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and owner of the Teapot Dome lease, will refuse to testify when he is called before the senate public lands committee tomorrow. International News Service learned this afternoon. Sinclair will claim immunity on the ground his testimony might tend to incriminate him in court action, criminal and civil, in connection with the lease. The oil man's decision not to waive immunity was reached in a conference with his attorneys following the legal battle before the committee this morning to prevent his appearance on the stand. Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall also refused to testify on the identical grounds and the committee excused him from the stand.

WILL HAYS SUMMONED IN OIL INQUIRY

NEW YORK, March 21.—Will H. Hays, formerly chairman of the Republican national committee, left New York this morning, to testify before the Senate oil lease investigating committee at Washington. He declined to make any statement.

CLAIMS CREDIT FOR BRINGING RAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Credit for bringing rains to San Francisco yesterday was claimed today by W. J. Collonan, electrical engineer, who asserted that by means of an electrical device he can "make it pour" in twenty-four hours. The Rev. Father Paul A. Anderson, who arranged for tests of the electrical machine, was said to have endorsed Collonan's claim.

WITNESS SHOWING STRAIN OF TRIAL

Mrs. Schick Nears Collapse
In 3-Day Grilling In Probe of Murder

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—On the verge of collapse, after three days on the witness stand, Mrs. Sarah Margaret Schick, star witness for the state, was supported on the arm of a bailiff as she left the court room at the noon recess today. The baby daughter of herself and E. Drew Clark is but three months old, and the mother, though fighting bravely, is weakening under the strain.

For two days she has been mercilessly grilled by attorneys for Clark, accused of the murder of her husband, George E. Schick, prominent realty broker of this city. Much of today's session was given over to a series of questions dealing with her confessed forgery of a power of attorney by which she gained possession of the $75,000 estate of her husband.

Summon Witnesses In Woman's Murder Probe

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 21.—A coroner's jury was to conduct an inquest today in the mysterious slaying of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, pretty divorcee, whose body was found in her home here late Tuesday.

Subpoenas for twenty-five witnesses were issued, including Charles Wilkins, brother of the slain woman; Dillard Davis, negro house man; Clara Francis, a nurse, formerly employed by Mrs. Wilkins, and Mrs. G. L. Palmer, owner of the house in which Dr. Wilkins was slain.

BORDER RUMOR DENIED

PARIS, March 21.—A report that Premier Poincare has received a communication from Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England in reference to the security of France's frontiers was denied by the foreign office this afternoon.

U.S. Marines Guard Radio Station at Honduras Capital

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Thirty American marines are guarding the radio station five kilometers from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, the navy department was advised today.

Dispatches said that tranquility had been established in the capital following the arrival of the bluejackets.

HOUSE PLANS TO ADJOURN JUNE 1

Investigations May Prevent Senate Knocking Off
During Campaign

WASHINGTON, March 21.—House leaders agreed today to an adjournment of Congress before the conventions starting on June 10, the adjournment to last through the campaign.

They will inform President Coolidge at a dinner tonight that the House will complete its business by June 1, but that they have no control over the Senate. Senate leaders are dubious about the prospects with so many investigations under way.

"Why should we stay here after the conventions and play politics?" asked Representative Longworth, Republican leader.

"The Democrats will do nothing to delay legislation or force a session after June," said Representative Garrett, Democratic leader.

Fire Burning In Hold Of Jap Liner at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—A severe fire is burning in hold No. 3 of the Japanese liner Korea Maru, which left Kobe on March 17, en route to Hong Kong, according to word received here early today by the Chamber of Commerce. The vessel sailed from here February 26.

ASKS JAIL TERM FOR LUDENDORFF

Two-Year Sentence Urged
By Prosecutor In Trial
Of Cellar Revolt

MUNICH, March 21.—The prosecutor in the Ludendorff-Hitler high treason trial today urged the court to impose a two-year term of imprisonment on General Erich Ludendorff, directing genius of the German armies in the great war.

A term of eight years' penal servitude was suggested for Adolf Hitler, founder of the Bavarian fascist and main ringleader of the nationalist revolt last November.

Other recommendations by the public prosecutor were six years' fortress imprisonment for the defendants, Poehner, Kriebel and Wober; two years for Roehm, one year and six months for Wagner and one year and three months for Pernet.

Anita Stewart Denies Marriage In Florida

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Anita Stewart, film actress, today declared there was no truth in a story emanating from Cocoa, Fla., that she had married a Montgomery, Ala., man.

"The woman who used my name when she was married in Florida a few days ago is evidently trying to project herself into the limelight on the strength of my professional reputation," said Miss Stewart.

INSPECT POLAR PLANES

PLYMOUTH, Eng., March 21.—Lieutenant Ralph Davis, U. S. N., who will attempt to fly across the Arctic circle with Roald Amundsen, the Polar explorer, arrived today en route for Piza, Italy, to inspect the planes for the flight which have been constructed there.

COLLAPSE KILLS FIFTEEN

LISBON, March 21.—Fifteen persons were killed and fifteen injured when a house collapsed at Campolide today.

LIQUOR PLOT REACHES TO DAUGHERTY OFFICIAL

Drug Company Official In Startling Charges at Senate 'Trial'

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A fresh sensation was sprung in the Senate's investigation of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty today when John Goroni, vice president of the Elks' Drug company of New York, testified that David L'Esperance, a special assistant attorney general of the United States, received a "cut in" on the money that was paid for the illegal withdrawal of liquor in New York.

Goroni testified he paid $50,000 in thousand dollar bills to William A. Orr, who represented himself as "close" to Daugherty.

L'Esperance is on duty in the district attorney's office in New York.

Goroni estimated that between 50,000 and 60,000 cases of whiskey were withdrawn illegally and found their way into bootlegging channels.

Claims Money Split
Goroni identified L'Esperance as a "major in the regiment of District Attorney William Hayward, and later was an attorney in Hayward's office."

"And L'Esperance is now a special assistant attorney-general?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Yes, Orr told me how the money was split. Orr and Murphy both told me L'Esperance got 50 cents from the sale of each permit."

"L'Esperance acted as 'lawyer for the group,' Goroni said, and later was appointed to his present post.

Goroni testified he paid William A. Orr, who represented himself as being "close" to Daugherty $50,000 in thousand dollar bills to effect the withdrawal of 500 cases of whiskey, after Goroni had been turned down by the prohibition bureau.

Commits Suicide
Goroni said he handled the money for John Lynn, who later hanged himself. He identified Lynn as handler of the withdrawal for five drug firms in New York.

Orr and his friends, Howard Mannington and Jesse W. Smith, according to Goroni, divided profits in the whiskey withdrawals. They were a part of the Columbus crowd, Goroni said, and in reply to a question of Senator Wheeler as to whether they were a "tough crowd," Goroni naively remarked they were and that he wished he had "broken his arm before he ever signed a paper with them."

Auto Ground to Bits by Trains, Driver Not Hurt

CHICAGO, March 21.—Edward A. Polka, official of the Valentine Seavers Furniture company, escaped unscathed when his automobile was ground to bits between two "L" trains early today.

Blinded by the falling snow, he drove through the gates at Austin boulevard where the elevated railway trains run on the surface. The car was struck by an eastbound train, which hurled it in the path of one west bound.

Between the two, not a whole piece was left of the car. Polka clung to the steering wheel and was unscratched. Both trains were derailed.

SOCIAL EVENT

Thirty Years Wed

Just thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson of 107 South Isabel street were bride and groom, and on Tuesday night they celebrated their "pearl" anniversary with a dinner party at their home.

Green and white were combined in the color scheme used on the dinner table, orange blossoms and carnations being the flowers used. To the wedding march played by George Anderson the company took their places and later enjoyed a full course turkey dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson received many beautiful gifts and bouquets of flowers.

Included in the company were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Caroline Hoffman, both brides thirty years ago; Mrs. C. C. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Simmons and daughter, Dorothy; Miss Ethel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Anderson and daughter, Laverne; Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Warner Harris, of Eagle Rock; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anderson and son, Edwin; George Phillips, Raymond Anderson, Carl Anderson, George H. Anderson, of Glendale; Miss Geneva Miller, Miss Alice Miller, of Beaumont; Albert Anderson, of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Sanders, of Boston, Mass.

For Mrs. Potter

"Complimenting Mrs. E. D. Potter of North Verdugo road, who soon leaves for Glendale to make her home, the members of the Northeast group of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church combined their regular business meeting with a farewell party at the home of Mrs. E. M. Kennedy, 327 North Belmont street, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Potter has been a resident of Glendale for twelve years and a earnest worker and participant in all church activities. She has given generously of her time for the benefit of the Home Missionary society and as a token of the appreciation of the members, she was presented with a beautiful Dickens birthday book in which the members wrote their name. At the close of a short business session a program was given including an old-fashioned spelling match conducted by Mrs. J. Rehberg; readings by Mrs. Edith Wolber, and an interesting review on "Child Life" by Mrs. John Lampert.

Later in the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. E. M. Kennedy, assisted by her daughter and sister-in-law, Mrs. Stanley. There were twenty-five women in attendance and the afternoon proved most enjoyable.

Farewell Honor

Mrs. T. S. Caldwell, who for several years has been pianist in the primary department of the Glendale Presbyterian Sunday school, is leaving Glendale to make her home in Arcadia, and in her honor Mrs. Roy D. King, superintendent of the primary department gave a delightful luncheon yesterday at the church.

The officers and teachers of the primary department were invited to take part in the farewell honor for Mrs. Caldwell and it was with regret that they bade her goodbye.

Those who were seated at the luncheon tables were Mrs. Caldwell and her mother, Mrs. Wilson, and Mesdames Goodale, W. E. Edmonds, Finlay, Martin, W. E. Wilkins, White, J. A. Newton, Weiland, George McDill, A. D. Smith, Marlett, E. O. Smith, Ware, Sutton, Mitchell, M. H. Terry, M. P. Harrison, G. Harrison, Henry Lawrence, W. H. Hunt and Misses Daugherty, Gray, Sargent and Guenther.

Needlework Club

Mrs. Frank Overton of 449 West Oak street was hostess yesterday to the members of the Needlework club when she entertained with a dainty appointed luncheon and informal social afternoon.

Green and white were artistically combined in the scheme of decoration with a profusion of green and white carnations. The luncheon table appointments were also carried out in the same color scheme with favors and bon bon baskets in the St. Patrick motifs. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and an informal social hour.

Those present included Mesdames J. C. Waite, J. D. Root, Ed Hoover, S. A. Koontz, M. C. Fuller, E. O. Carlisle, W. H. McCoy, mens and E. Bruce.

Gives Musicales

Mrs. Charles Beggs of 707 North Louise street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a musicale, entertaining over sixty friends from Glendale, Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena.

She was assisted by Mrs. H. Minerva Dey of Los Angeles, and Mrs. John Beard and Mrs. Oliver Clark of Glendale.

The program was given by Madame Gloria Bretherton, vocalist, assisted by Wycliff Taylor, reader; Jessie Henthorn Cartier, pianist; Ruth Overton, violinist; Mary Leal Lawrence, accompanist. Spring flowers in shades of yellow were used in profusion about the Beggs home.

Later in the afternoon tea was served.

Hold Food Sale

Troop 6, Glendale Girl Scouts, will hold a cooked food and candy sale Saturday, beginning at 9 o'clock, and continuing throughout the day, in the entrance of Jensen's Arcade, 133 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. J. S. Buile, captain of the troop, will be in charge of arrangements.

Second Birthday

A most elaborate children's party was the affair given last Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Louis A. Lewis of 5164 Delaware avenue, Eagle Rock, in celebration of her son, Louis Wilson Lewis', second birthday anniversary.

There was a generous profusion of spring flowers artistically arranged in both the dining and living rooms of the Lewis home. Easter motifs also were used effectively in decoration.

The refreshment table was decorated in a pink and white color scheme with a pyramid three-layer cake, elaborately decorated, forming the centerpiece. The first layer of the cake was bordered with pink and white candy rabbits and chickens, the second layer was bordered with pink and white Easter eggs and the third layer bore two pink candles. White candy rabbits were used as favors and Easter eggs were used as place cards.

Games, music and an informal social time were the diversions of the afternoon.

The invited guests included Tommy Furst, Frae Rohr, Lorraine McIntyre, Harriett and Harry Wilson, Thelma Wilcox, Betty Sullivan and Inez Endicott, Colleen Lewis and the guest of honor, Louis Wilson Lewis, and Mesdames Tom Furst, Edward Rohr, Wilmont McIntyre, Harry Wilson, John Wilcox, Albert Sullivan, Howard Ford, Chester Endicott, and the honoree's grandmother and parents, Mrs. Bertha Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Lewis.

Columbus P.-T. A.

The regular meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at the schoolhouse, with the president, Mrs. C. P. Tedford, in charge.

A short business session was held, when it was announced $25 had been added to the treasury to purchase shrubs and plants for the school grounds. It was also announced that it is expected the pupils of the school will donate at least another $25 to be added to this fund.

Safety for the school children at dangerous crossings was discussed and plans inaugurated for co-operation with other organizations to assist in the regulation of the traffic in front of the schoolhouse. In this connection, Mrs. C. H. Lyons announced she would give $1 to the boy and $1 to the girl who would compose the best safety first notice.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to an informal social hour, when refreshments were served.

War Mothers' Tea

Suitable work for disabled war veterans was urged yesterday by Mrs. Wellington, manager of the California Hut for ex-servicemen in Los Angeles, who was honored guest and speaker at the tea given by the Glendale War Mothers at the home of Mrs. Annie Parks, 350 West Lomita avenue.

She emphasized the necessity of suitable work for those boys who are partially disabled and not in physical condition to labor like other men. She said there are various ways of aiding these men. The banks, offices and other institutions need supplies, such as light-wads, memorandum books and other things these young men can supply in wholesale quantities at figures as reasonable as they can be gotten elsewhere. Any firms which can supply the Hut with such orders would not only perform an act of patriotism, but would be materially helping these disabled toward self-support and save many from discouragement.

Leaves For Home

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Shuyler of 330 West Ivy street were hosts last night at a delightful dinner party and informal social evening, complimenting William Farrer, who leaves today for Hamilton, Can., after a two months' visit here.

Red roses and carnations were artistically combined with greenery in the living and dining rooms.

After dinner the evening was devoted to playing bridge and an informal social time enjoyed.

Those present included the guest of honor, William Farrer, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Person, Mrs. W. H. Gage, Thurston Harshman, Miss Lois Schuyler and Hoyt and Ernest Schuyler, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown.

Picnic Outing

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Reichard of 415 East Loraine street are making plans for entertaining at a picnic outing Sunday all those connected with Mr. Reichard's firm in Los Angeles, the Morris and Snow Seed company.

Present Papers

Papers on "The Japanese in California" were presented yesterday afternoon at the missionary meeting held in the Congregational church by Mrs. Helen Hanson and Mrs. L. T. Rowley. These papers were very interesting and took up both the affirmative and negative sides of the subject.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. C. H. Schulte, when plans were discussed relative to the Missionary convention to be held at the church on April 29 and 30.

Represents Club

Mrs. John W. Sharpe is to represent the Thursday club in assisting with the housing of club women who come to Glendale next month for the annual convention of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. E. W. Hayward of the Tuesday Afternoon club is chairman of the housing committee, on which Mrs. Sharpe will serve.

ROSE BUSH OVER CENTURY OLD AS WEDDING BOWER

Grandniece of 'Mama Nanita' Will Marry Jose Lugo Under Aged Tree

When Maria Antonia Lonjino Masimo Verdugo, 118-year-old member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, was but 5 years old she first came to live at the foot of "The Green Verdugo Hills" in a little adobe house that still stands in Verdugo Woodlands.

While there "Mama Nanita" planted a small Spanish jasmine rose that has thrived wonderfully during the 113 years since, growing into a veritable tree and sending its long branches up over the porch and roof of the little house.

Roses Still Bloom

In the springtime, countless buds burst forth and the remarkable old rose tree is showered with double white blossoms, none of which have thorns.

It is under this beautiful rose tree that Miss Isabel Verdugo, grand niece of "Mama Nanita," will become the bride of Jose Lugo of San Gabriel, at a high noon ceremony next Sunday.

From Spanish Families

Miss Verdugo, who resides in San Gabriel, is the daughter of Pedro F. Verdugo of Verdugo Woodlands, nephew of "Mama Nanita," while Mr. Lugo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Lugo of San Gabriel Mission. Both are members of old Spanish families whose names are prominent in the early history and romance of California.

Mrs. Ramona Verdugo, an aunt of Miss Verdugo, now lives in the adobe.

Among the 100 relatives and friends attending the marriage on Sunday will be "Mama Nanita," in whose heart still burns the romance of the days of the padres and the dons.

Their cities, and, as practically all of the local conference presidents and departmental secretaries of the different local conferences are included in the number, these men and women, who travel extensively over their conference territory, will spread the name and fame of the institution over an exceedingly wide field.

Lights Turned On

The white frosted lights in the corridors were turned on last night and made an impressive picture. The lights in the spacious dining room were also turned on and the tables upon which the patients are to eat were placed in this room. It is expected that they will be placed in order, and set as though meals were to be taken, by Sunday afternoon.

The Elks' band, that will dispense music during the early part of the afternoon, will occupy the roof garden over the main entrance. A platform will be laid and chairs placed for the comfort of the musicians. A platform will also be built in front of the entrance, to supplement the space on the porch, and at least 3000 chairs, secured from the Southern California conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will be placed in front of the building for the accommodation of those who are planning to attend.

Mr. Kimlin announces that the ceremonies are to be open to the general public, and that everybody in Glendale and other cities as well will be cordially welcomed. He says this institution has been built for the benefit of humanity and that he wants the people to see it, both inside and out.

Is First Guest

R. E. Kalfus, of Oakland, Cal., holds the distinction of being the first guest to sleep under the roof of the new institution. He arrived here Wednesday and was given one of the rooms there. As secretary-treasurer of the California conference of Adventists, he will remain until after the opening ceremonies.

Elder A. G. Daniels, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Foreign Mission board of the Adventist denomination, and his wife, have arrived. Elder Daniels is to give one of the addresses Sunday afternoon. He will speak on the rise and development of the medical work of the denomination. Having been a leader in the church for the past thirty years, during which time there has been wonderful progress made in sanitarium work, it is anticipated that Elder Daniels' address will abound with interesting facts.

Practically all members of the executive committees of the six local conferences of the Pacific Union will be here by nightfall and will remain until after the opening, states Mr. Kimlin, who says:

"It will be the most important gathering of executive leaders of the Adventist church that has been in Glendale in a long time. No other medical institution in the denominational ranks has ever aroused as keen an interest for its success as this one. It will be boosted in all sections of the Pacific coast, and men and women in other sections will also speak well of it. The warm hand-

FANCY, FUNNY COSTUMES GREET ANNUAL JINX DAY

High School Students Wear Clothes Ranging From Silks to Barrel

Broadway and Harvard street high schools were turned into a riot of color and fun today, the occasion being the annual "Jinx Day" of the two institutions, the one day of the year when the students and faculty are allowed to wear any costume within the bounds of propriety.

The scenes enacted in the corridors of the two schools when classes were changing at 9 o'clock this morning beggar description.
Hundreds and hundreds of weird costumes that ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous, were seen, with students in many cases giving a wonderful impersonation of the character represented.

"Gang's All Here"

There were milkmaids, senor-itas, tramps, farmers, old maids, flappers, Indians, cowpunchers, strong men, sweet sixteen, old men and women, fashion models, artists, Chinamen, negroes, Irish maids, brides of long ago, dressed in what appeared to be their grandmother's wedding dress;
tall men, short men, fat men and slim men—in fact, every character witnessed at a masquerade ball, multiplied by 100 per cent.
The fun is all of an innocent character and does not interfere with the day's school work.
Classes are held as usual, and the routine goes on uninterrupted.
This afternoon at the close of the last period a photographer will be on hand to take pictures of some of the costumes that are regarded as the most striking.

Works of Art
"It is a day eagerly looked forward to by the students, and members of the faculty as well," said Vice-Principal A. L. Ferguson.
"We believe in play as well as work, in moderation, and this gives the student body a chance to let off steam."

Many of the costumes were really works of art, while others created no end of fun for the onlookers. Doris Osmun, dressed as a country girl of the first water, from front teeth gone, straw in her hair and country mannerisms attracted considerable attention.

Marion Morrison, one of the best tackles in the Central league, who ripped great holes in the opposing football lines last fall, dressed like a great, big, awkward kid took the crowd.

Lois Anderson, tall, slim and with a walk that foiled all the attempts of the reporter to fathom or describe, seemed to be enjoying herself immensely. With one eye closed a person could imagine he was walking on Fifth avenue.

Wesley Havermale made a very imposing looking Romeo, dressed in blue velvet, cape and hat to match. Bettie Knudson and Katherine Wilson, a pair of charming señoritas, gave no exhibition of their skill in the Spanish tango in the corridors. Their impersonations gave every evidence of being the real thing.

Adelle Miles in Pierrot costume, tall black hat with tassel to match, sat in a corner and watched the proceedings with a merry eye.

Horror! Wears Barrel

Fred Hanneford, minus a set of fancy clothes, came in a barrel, and gave the other students a great laugh. Held up by two strings, his only worry was that some mischievous boy would slip up and cut the supports. He will be excused if he goes home and gets more substantial clothing before the day is over. One day fighting off the attacks of a thousand boys bent upon his destruction would tire almost anybody.
The students who did not, for various reasons, dress up today were the object of considerable "razing" by those that did. There were rumors of punishment, as swift and requisite as only that pronounced by a student body can be, before the day is over, for the unfortunate ones. The few who were not in costume contented themselves with watching the proceedings from a safe distance.

PYTHIANS STAGE RANK OF KNIGHT

Special Program Planned for Next Meeting, Comedy
To Be Presented

At this week's regular business session of the Glendale Lodge, Knights of Pythias, S. E. Wright, chancellor commander, presided,
and Earl From, master of work, assisted by the degree team, gave a perfect exemplification of the Knight rank.

During the meeting C. S. Nicholson, deputy grand chancellor, gave a brief talk pertaining to Pythian work and Frank E.
Peters, keeper of records and seal, urged the members to make a special effort and attend the presentation of "Elijah" by the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club.
Announcement was made that during the next meeting of the Glendale Lodge, a special program will be presented in addition to the Esquire rank. The Van Nuys Lodge will be present and entertain with a comedy full of laughs for everyone. Every Pythian is urged to be present.

AMATEURS SHOW TALENT IN PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

"Mice and Men" Wins Praise
At Performance by Clever Actors

Home talent is often the best, as was demonstrated Thursday night, when the comedy-drama,
"Mice and Men," by Madeline Riley, was produced at the high school on Harvard street, under the auspices of the Community Service by a cast chosen from the drama department of that organization.

The costuming was excellent and the stage settings good. Dorothy Morton Hastings, who starred as Peggy, the founding ward;
Mrs. T. C. Young, as Joanna Goodlake, the gay diva; and
J. B. Clarke, as Mark Embury, scientist, should be accorded almost equal honors. Mrs. Ernest Tucker was especially clever in the role of the inquisitive Mrs.
Deborah. Paul Morgan was a handsome hero; Edgar Shockley was good as the skeptical friend;
A. J. Van Wit surely found his vocation as Kit, the fiddler; Wesley Pomeroy, Joe Griffin, Mrs. L.
S. Smith, Robert Keltner and Mrs.
Charles Hatz did most creditable work.

Alberta Plasterer, Faith Kennedy, Marjorie Gilhuly, Dorothy McPherson, Dorothy Redman, Luella Ashton, Rose Swartzkots and Helen Hone made a decided hit as "samples" from the foundlings' home.

Musical Program

A delightful feature of the evening was the program of music by community talent, the opening number being "Red, Red Rose," sung by Milton C. Jackson, the theme of which was carried throughout the play.
Other numbers of his repertoire were "I Passed By Your Window," "Old Fashioned Town," "Sunrise and You," "If I Should Build a World for You," "Banjo Song," and "A Little Bit of Honey."

Mr. Jackson's popularity as an entertainer was evidenced by the rounds of applause with which he was greeted with each appearance.

Miss May Orcutt played the piano accompaniments, and D. F.
Crawford, the violin, the combination making a charming trio.

Plan Little Theatre

Before the rising of the curtain the audience was welcomed warmly by R. Ernest Tucker, secretary of the Community Service; Mrs.
Max Lynde Green, curator of the drama department, and Granville R. Sturges, who directed the production, whose combined efforts is credited the success of this first production of the Little Theatre Players of Glendale. It is safe to predict, after last night's score, that this will not be the last, and there is every possibility that the dream now being cherished by the drama department, that Glendale may have not only a Little Theatre Players, but a Community Theatre as well, may in time come true.

After the close of the performance the audience was served waters and fruit punch, from tables in the lobby, where Mrs.
Green presided as hostess, assisted by members of the cast and others of the drama department.

URGE ACTION ON FOOTHILL ROUTE

Burbank-Glendale-Pasadena Highway Advocates In Resolution

A resolution favoring the proposed new Burbank-Glendale-Pasadena foothill route and urging action thereon was passed at last night's joint meeting of the Fourth Street and Foothill Improvement associations, held in the Grand View school, presided over by J. H. Randall, president of the Fourth Street body. A copy of the resolution will be presented to Mayor Spencer Robinson and the Glendale City Council.
Both organizations went on record as strongly endorsing President Alexander Mitchell of the Foothill Improvement association as a candidate for election to the Glendale Union High school board of trustees, and Messrs. O. M.
Newby, C. L. Jenkins and J. A.
Gyger volunteered their automobiles and services on election day, March 23, to take voters to and from the polls, inasmuch as the voting place is quite distant from this section, being located in the Harvard Street High school.

TELLS STORY OF BOOZE BRIBERY

Special Assistant Attorney General Gets 'Cut In'
Asserts Witness

cused Senator Wheeler of not letting witnesses favorable to Daugherty to testify.

"You are uttering what is a deliberate falsehood and you know you lie," shouted Wheeler, in reply.

"I am going to have that assurance," retorted Attorney Howland, Daugherty's counsel. "Will you say on your word, Senator Wheeler, that you will put on the stand witnesses favorable as well as unfavorable to the attorney-general?"

"We will put on any witnesses
we think will help this investigation," answered Wheeler hotly,
"and not those whose testimony has been framed by the department of justice. 'You're not going to run this committee. We won't put perjured testimony into this investigation.'"

When peace was finally restored, George B. Hayes, a New York lawyer for the Elks and Alphas Drug companies, was called.
He was Geroni's lawyer and testified about the purchase of 10,000 cases of whiskey from a Scottish firm, of Geroni's indictment and subsequent acquittal.

"Is L'Esperance connected with the attorney general's department now?" Senator Jones, asked Attorney Howland.

"Yes," said Howland. "We'll have him here." "Well, if this story about him is true, he should be disconnected at once."

Makes Denial

NEW YORK, March 21.—An emphatic denial that he had ever accepted money as a bribe in connection with withdrawal of liquor as testified today in Washington before a senatorial investigating committee by John Geroni, was made this afternoon by Major Davis L'Esperance, a special United States attorney-general.
"No money was ever paid to me in splits," L'Esperance said. "I never acted in connection with any liquor withdrawal permits. I never received fifty cents a case or any other amount from any bootlegger or in connection with any bootlegging action."

DOLLEY TO HEAR BLAIR'S VERDICT

Temporary Suspension for Dry Agent Ordered by Department Head

WASHINGTON, March 21.—
At the request of department of justice, H. H. Dolley, federal field prohibition director in California, who was suspended from office, has been reinstated, it was announced at the treasury department.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—

Harold H. Dolley, chief state prohibition agent, was to be informed today that he has been temporarily suspended by Commissioner Blair of the internal revenue department. Dolley, who is alleged

Stinnes Resigns His Seat In Reichstag

BERLIN, March 21.—Hugo Stinnes, Germany's foremost industrial and financial magnate resigned his Reichstag seat this afternoon. He was a member of the German people's party.
Stinnes is ill and his physician advised him to give up business and political affairs. He has just been successfully operated on for gall stones.

ANARCHIST ARRESTED

MOSCOW, March 21.—A number of anarchists and social revolutionaries who have been conducting armed raids against soviet institutions, were arrested today by the Tcheka—soviet secret police. They are charged with crimes against the government and against public order.

DR. EVANS GIVES HIS OPINIONS ON C. S. TEACHINGS

Takes Issue With Lecturers
In Church Address to Presbyterians

Dr. William Evans, who "is drawing big crowds to his Bible conferences being held afternoons and evenings at the Glendale Presbyterian church, spoke last night on the subject of "Why I Am Not a Christian Scientist."

He said: "There are Christian Scientists going about the country speaking on 'Why I Am a Christian Scientist,' so I reserve the right to speak on the negative side of the question."

"In the first place, I would like to know why I had such a time finding the editions of Christian Science literature which I desired from the various libraries and second hand stores of our country. These early editions somehow disappear from these places. Why?

Reasons for Changes?

"Why, again, have these writings which are supposed to be a divine revelation been changed and revised and rechanged again? One leader in the Christian Scientist (church) came to me and said, 'I am through with Science because I cannot satisfactorily explain these many changes and revisions of the editions.'

"I had nothing to say of it so long as it was continued as a mental healing proposition. But when the idea of religion is brought into play, then all ministers should have something to say. In 'Science and Health,' pages 166, 167, 1875 edition, Mrs. Eddy says, 'We have no need of creeds or church organizations to sustain or explain a demonstrable platform.' Then why the hundreds of Christian Scientist churches today?

"The reason I am not a Christian Scientist in the first place is that it is not scientific. 'Matter seems to be but is not,' says 'Science and Health,' page 123, 1909, 1916. 'Matter is but manifest mortal mind,' says 'Miscellaneous Writings,' page 47, 1916. 'Matter was originally error in solution,' says 'Science and Health,' page 372, 1916.

Quotes References

"In the second place I am not a Christian Scientist because it is not Christian. It denies the personality of God. 'Principle and idea is one, and this one is God,' says 'Science and Health,' page 465, 1909, 1916. It denies the true teaching concerning Jesus Christ. 'The Virgin mother conceived this idea of God and gave to her ideal the name of Jesus,' says page 334; page 29, 1909, 1916. It denies sin. 'Matter and evil are unreal,' says 'Miscellaneous Writings,' page 27.

"Did you ever hear of a marriage ceremony in a Christian Scientist church? Never. Why?"

Tonight Dr. Evans will conduct a question box and Herbert G. Tovey will lead in congregational singing and will sing as a solo "The Ninety and Nine."

SHUT MAIL BOXES, PLEA OF JACKSON

Many Letters Lost Through Carelessness of Public, Postmaster Says

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is endeavoring to impress on those who have mail boxes in the post-office the absolute necessity of seeing that their boxes are properly closed again after they remove their mail. Many persons, he claims, simply slam the box shut, without making sure that it has been properly locked and that it is proof against any prying meddler.

Complaints that mail has been lost can, in many cases, be traced to the fact that the boxes have been left open. Postmaster Jackson says, and he urges on all box holders the absolute necessity of closing the boxes when mail is removed. Children playing in the lobby of the postoffice while waiting for older persons to transact their business are prone to trifle with the lock boxes, he states, but they are not the worst offenders. There are persons who are always on the alert to rob mail boxes, especially those of business firms where there may be a possibility of securing important letters containing remittances, he claims, and he urges the greatest care in keeping the boxes closed.

Every time a lock box is found open by the postal officials a notice is left in the box advising the owner of the fact, and a record is kept in the postoffice of such occasions, but the co-operation of the public is asked in order that the theft menace may be minimized.

Delegates to Girls' Reserve Meet Leave

Members of the Girls' Reserve, local high school junior Y. W. C. A., who were appointed delegates to the convention which will be in session at San Diego during the week-end, include the Misses Irene Robinson, Mildred Rudy and Jane Singleton. They left today by automobile, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Singleton and Miss Colby, who will leave the girls at San Diego and then motor down to Calexico. They will return for the girls on Monday.

MUSIC FIRM TO ERECT BUILDING TO COST $29,530

New Structure to Be Three Stories High, Adjoin
Glendale Theater

A permit was issued late yesterday afternoon by H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, to F. J. and Vincent Salmacia, proprietors of the Glendale Music Shop, 109 North Brand boulevard, for the erection of a three-story building at 120 South Brand, to cost $29,530.

The new building, designed by Alfred F. Priest, local architect, and to be constructed by Chris Thoren, Hollywood contractor, will be situated just north of the Glendale theater. It will be 25 by 110 feet.

On the first floor will be located the instrument department, for saxophones, cornets and other brass and reed instruments. On the mezzanine will be the phonograph demonstration rooms and offices. The second floor will be given over to the piano department, and according to present plans, the third floor will be occupied by several music studios.

Ready By June

The building is to be completed in three months, said Mr. Salmacia this morning. When the music shop moves to the new location, the present store at 109 North Brand will be occupied by the Brunswick shop, also owned by the same firm, which will move from its present location at 123 South Brand to the site now occupied by the music shop.

"We will have one of the finest buildings in town when completed," said Mr. Salmacia. "The front will be of stucco finish, and ornamental in design. We have seen an enormous crowd of people move of some kind was necessary, and we decided to erect our own building. We will include many features which characterize the most up-to-date music shops in the east."

PASTOR TO TAKE TRIP TO FLORIDA

Dr. and Mrs. Winnard Plan
Visit to Former Home
Via Canal Route

A spring pleasure trip is being anticipated by Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the Tropic Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Winnard, who are planning on leaving April 7 for a visit to their former home in Tampa, Fla.

They will go by way of the Panama Canal, sailing on the "Kronland," a Panama-Pacific steamship liner. Their itinerary calls for a stop of a few days at Havana and other points of interest in Cuba.

They will visit Key West, Miami, Palm Beach, Daytona, St. Augustine and Tampa. One of the features of their trip will be the famous "Over Sea" railroad of the Florida East Coast from Key West to the mainland. They will also take the beautiful St. John's river trip from Jacksonville.

Returning from Tampa they will travel by steamer across the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans, and then to the Grand Canyon and on home by rail. They plan to reach Glendale about the first of June.

During their absence Mr. Shatter, the assistant pastor at the Tropic church, will occupy the Winnard home in Florida court on Riverdale drive. He will also be in charge of the church services.

Temperature Falling
In National Capital

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The first day of spring found the national capital engulfed in a sea of slush, with the temperature falling.

According to reports to the United States weather bureau, precipitation is spread over a wide area but heavy snowfall is limited to the District of Columbia, Western Maryland, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania.

The storm center is moving northeast and was over the Virginia capes this morning. The present storm started in California last Sunday, moved southeast through the Rio Grande valley and then swept northeastward to the Atlantic seaboard.

Hatfield to Receive Credit for Showers

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Seven inches of snow at Summit, a good fall of rain in Fresno and vicinity and light showers in Southern California, falling yesterday and last night, is all that may be expected of the California storm which ushered in spring.

ORATORIO TICKET BODY TO MEET

Reduce Admission Charge
On School Children to Fifty Cents Each

In anticipation of the presentation next Tuesday night in the Broadway High school auditorium of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" by the Glendale Music club, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, club president, has called a meeting of the members of the ticket committee and directors of the club for tonight at the Nathan Rigdon home at 224 West Doran street, following the program of the Artists' section. Members of the ticket committee are Mrs. Edwin Cleophas, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. F. H. Wallace, Miss Mamie Smith, Mrs. William MacMullen, Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, Mrs. R. T. Young and Mrs. L. K. Markey.

Mrs. Markey is most anxious that the children of Glendale attend the oratorio and states that tickets for children are 50 cents. As chairman of this part of the ticket work Mrs. Markey has placed tickets for children at Roberts & Echols Drug store, Charles Guthrie Realty office, Brunswick shop, Glendale Music company, and the Chamber of Commerce.

PAY INCOME TAX ON ALIEN LANDS

Custodian of All Property
Seized In Time of War
Sends Big Check

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Checks aggregating $9,708,633 income tax on property of former enemy aliens seized during the war, have been forwarded to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore by Alien Property Custodian T. W. Miller, the treasury department announced today. While the internal revenue law is prohibited by law from making public names of taxpayers it was stated that a considerable part of the amount was collected from property of Grover C. B. doll, draft dodger, now hiding in Germany. The smallest amount paid on an individual account of an alien was 45 cents and the largest about $3,000,000, according to the announcement. All for income taxes are paid to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore.

LABOR PREMIER HAS TO EXPLAIN AIDS' FAUX PAS

Indiscreet Utterances Are Embarrassing; Macdonald
Cautions Ministers

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service
LONDON, March 21.—Premier Ramsay Macdonald is trying to curb the tongues of some of the members of his government.

Indiscreet speeches and inopportunely public statements by members of the Macdonald ministry have, it is alleged, caused the prime minister considerable annoyance. It is understood that he seeks to impress upon his fellow officials the need of speaking warily.

An illustration of the trouble that may arise from ministerial indiscretions of speech is afforded by a recent happening in the House of Commons. Arthur Henderson, home secretary in the Macdonald cabinet, during a campaign address in a parliamentary by-election, declared that the Labor party advocated the immediate revision of the treaty of Versailles.

In Hot Water
Next day David Lloyd George started trouble in the House of Commons. He demanded of Premier Macdonald if Henderson's statement represented the views of the government. Other members took up the issue and gave Macdonald a very busy quarter of an hour.

Macdonald quieted the flood of questions by declaring that the policy of the government had been stated by himself at the opening of the present session of Parliament and that there had been no change from that position. The questions and answers revealed, however, that Henderson's speech had been made on his own responsibility and had not been approved either by Macdonald or the cabinet.

There is no doubt that it is the policy of the Labor party that the Versailles treaty is in need of drastic revision. It is likewise the party's belief that the sooner the treaty is revised the sooner conditions will return to Europe.

Seeks Friendship
Since the Labor party came into office, however, Premier Macdonald has consistently endeav-

Owk! Bla! Man's Shape All Wrong Says Scientist

LONDON, March 21.— Mankind is the weakest and most imperfect of animals, and is prevented from doing useful work because of his shape, according to Professor F. W. Burdall, dean of the faculty of science at Birmingham university.

"If I were to design the men and women of the future, I should make them spherical, and provide them with wings and feathers," said the professor, in a recent speech.

"A spherical configuration would enable men to establish a four-hour working day, and do as much work as present-day men can do in eight hours," he added.

Bold Italian Pen Hits Fascist Rule By Dictatorship

New Book Attacks 'Morbid Love of Chimeric' In Plea for Democracy

ROME, March 21.—"Do not pin your faith in dictatorships, for the race of dictators has vanished from the earth like the ichthysaurus," declares Guglielmo Ferrero in his new book, "Da Fiume a Roma," a volume which is a brilliant study of Fascism and which is causing a sensation here.

Ferrero scolds the Fascist doctrine that democracy has failed and that Parliament, which was inherited from England, is suitable for Anglo-Saxons, is far too antiquated for Latins.

Democracy is not dead, says Ferrero very decidedly; it is very much alive, but not as yet out of the kindergarten. He declares that he does not hold the opinion that "the Italian people should always be treated as minors and kept in order with pretty words, lollipops and the birch rod."

Ferrero announces his faith in his fellow countrymen and declares they must seek their own salvation under a Liberal State,
"which recognizes the right of an opposition and recognizes the fact not from a morbid love of chimeric. Utopias, but as a necessity."

VISIT FROM SHAH NOT SO WELCOME

London Faces Potentate's
Advent With Well
Founded Fear

By F. A. WRAY
For International News Service
LONDON, March 21.—The Shah of Persia is coming to London, after briefly tasting the pleasures of Paris, but his visit is not being anticipated with any degree of enthusiasm.

"Truth" recalls now the late Shah visited London about fifty years ago, and the terrible fuss that he then created, both in England and France. Queen Victoria had never been so scandalized in her life before as by his goings-on when staying at Buckingham Palace, and after his eventual departure she would never allow his name to be mentioned in her presence again.

One cause of complaint was the terrible condition to which the rooms of his suite at the palace were quickly brought by the Shah.
It seems that the monarch and his staff had a playful habit of slaughtering sheep in their apartments, and the blood bespattering the walls did not help the appearance of the regal rooms. This, combined with other undesirable practices, brought the suite to such a condition that it had to be completely redecorated and refur-

There was another unpleasant story, which gained wide belief in England, that during the visit one of the Shah's servants was beheaded in the royal apartments for some trivial offence. The body, it has always been believed, was buried in the grounds of Buckingham Palace in the dead of night.

behind him no pleasant memories in Britain. It may be that his successor will be more fortunate, but none seem particularly sanguine in regard to the matter.

Hong Kong Hello Girls Cut off Flirtations

HONG KONG, Mar. 21.—"Tele-their numbers cancelled."

This, in effect, is a new order issued by the director of the telephone service, who states that girls have been annoyed through subscribers making love to them over the telephone.

World's Largest Bridge Planned For Sydney Harbor

SYDNEY, Australia, Mar.
21.—Contracts have just been awarded by the New South Wales government for the construction of the largest arch bridge in the world. The principal span will be 1650 feet long, with heavy decorative granite towers. The total length of the arch and the approaches will be 3370 feet and the headroom for vessels passing underneath will be 170 feet at high water. The height to top of the arch will be 450 feet. The bridge, which will be built at a cost of $20,000,000, will span Sydney harbor.

Women Explorers Find Cocos Island 'Loot Cave' Empty

Expedition Experiences All Sorts of Hardship In Seeking Wealth

SYDNEY, Australia, March 21.
—An amusing story of a fruitless search for the $60,000,000 treasure supposed to be buried on Cocos Island, in the South Pacific ocean, by the famous buccaners, Morgan and Benito, has been evoked here by reports that an expedition will shortly set out to recover the hoard.

Captain Innes, of the Australian Commonwealth Steamship Line, supplies the story.

Early in 1912, according to Innes, lured by glowing reports from two women who said they had been to Cocos Island, an expedition set out from England in the Melrose, with Captain Innes
as chief officer.

The two women said they had actually entered a tunnel on the island leading to a cavern of great depth, in which they plainly saw a mammoth image of the Virgin Mary and many other treasures supposed to be on the island.

They told their tale so sweetly, says Innes, and they produced such carefully-drawn plans of the treasure ground, that money poured in to finance an expedition, and the Melrose started.

Then the troubles began. First,
one of the crew attempted to

Glasgow Daily Record Gives

GLASGOW, March 21.—The Daily Record here is publishing stories "On the Scotch," one reader named Sandy penning the story of Jack's courting. He had taken Maggie out for a holiday treat, and at the end of the day had spent only threepence. As they parted that evening Maggie, moved to be sarcastic, said,
"Weel, Jack, ye'll mind me tae
gie ye yer thripence back." "Oh, replied Jack, "there's no hurry,
lassie, nae hurry!"

Another showing the usual trait of the Scot was offered as follows:

What More Could He Ask?
M'Tavish, arriving late one evening in London, was unable to secure accommodation in any of the hotels he tried. As he was wandering about disconsolate a gentleman, noting his evident perplexity, accosted him, learned his trouble, and offered to put him up for the night.

M'Tavish agreed, and after an excellent supper, went to bed in a comfortable bedroom. In the morning, after a hearty breakfast, he was approached by his host with the query, "Slept well?"
"Aye," "Enjoy your breakfast?"
"Fine, man, fine." "Well, how would ten bob suit you?" "Man, said M'Tavish, "it wld be a god-

TROUBLE SEEN IN CALIPHATE ROW

Rivalry of Nations Over Position Feared

LONDON, March 21.—Engli-men sympathetic toward the viewpoint of Great Britain's Mohammedan wards read trouble in the rivalry between England and France over the setting up of a successor to the deposed Caliph Abdul Medjid.

The British government has been told privately that leading Indian Moslems refuse to accept King Hussein, the British protected ruler of The Hedjaz, in Arabia, as Caliph in succession to Medjid, who was expelled by the Turkish national assembly. Hussein, who claims to be a direct descendant of Mohammed, has been accepted as caliph by his people.

The Indian refusal is backed by the threat that if Hussein is backed by the British, the 70-000,000 Indian Mohammedans will support the candidature of the Amir of Afghanistan, who is exceedingly anti-British.

When it is understood that the caliph is the spiritual leader of all Mohammedans, and in some ways exerts more influence over them than the pope does over Roman Catholics, it can be realized how important Great Britain believes it is to have one of its own partisans filling the role of caliph.
France would like to see one of its own adherents, the Sultan of Morocco, as caliph and it has not given up its efforts to install him.

King Fuad of Egypt is another candidate. He is not receiving any support from France, and Great Britain looks with disfavor on his efforts in view of the strong nationalistic tendencies permeating the kingdom of the Nile at present.

The upheaval in the affairs of the caliph is worrying Jews. They are watching with intense interest developments in the situation.
Palestine, the homeland, is a bridge between the Arabs and the Egyptians and the transference of the caliphate may cause serious friction between the two peoples.
Hence their interest.

CHANGE SHIP'S NAME

LONDON, March 21.—It is less trouble to change the name of a ship than to teach the public how to pronounce her old one. Therefore the Cunard Steamship company has rechristened the liner Tyrrhenia, and hereafter she will sail as the Lancastria. The company found too many passengers asked for tickets on that ship with the funny name.

PRETTY NIPPON PRINCESS FOND OF SMART GARB

Favors Western Modes But Textures Are Woven In Japanese Design

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service
TOKYO, March 21.—The Crown
Princess of Japan, who was said by Mrs. Cyrus E. Woods, wife of the American Ambassador to Japan, to be "one of the most attractive looking Japanese women I have ever met," is not unlike her Western sisters so far as her enjoyment of beautiful clothes is concerned. Crown Princess Nagako Kuni has been shown by the Japanese photographer in kimonos of bird design, or bamboo, kimonos featuring the dragon and the imperial phoenix bird of Japan. In foreign dress she has appeared equally attractive, her demand for attractive picture hats, dainty summer frocks and the latest shoes from Paris having been frequently noted.

Tell of Trousseau

Thus Japanese who were interested in every detail of the Crown Princess's new life at the Akasaka Palace, as the wife of the future Emperor of Japan, were particularly pleased when a Tokio department store, well-known for its dealings with the titled families of Japan, told recently of some of the frocks in Princess Nagako Kuni's trousseau, which was delivered just before the wedding, to the Akasaka Detached Palace. Especially interesting to the Japanese was the fact that the Crown Princess, while apparently favoring Western dresses, never failed to choose cloth in which were prominent some of the figures used in the texture of the Japanese kimono.

Various colors and designs were shown in the most recent purchases of the Crown Princess.
One attractive dress was on a ground color of peony shade, with cherry flowers and the lucky mandarin duck figuring in the pattern. The Japanese idea of mandarin ducks makes the birds
a lucky omen to the new bride, as the males and females never separate and are models as devoted mates. Another fine dress is a happy combination of a pine

BIBLICAL STORY WILL BE SHOWN BY MUSICAL CLUB

Oratorio 'Elijah' Is Best of All Sacred Operas, Says
Mrs. M. B. Jones

Glendale is to have the opportunity of witnessing a wonderful presentation of sacred opera next Tuesday night, says Mrs. M. B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, in telling of the production of Mendelssohn's oratorio 'Elijah' by the oratorio section of the club under the direction of John Smallman.

"I use the term sacred opera," says Mrs. Jones, "because in oratorios the stories are in most cases Biblical. 'Elijah,' the work we are going to give, is probably the most dramatic oratorio ever written. The music character of Elijah is clearly drawn, a man strong and zealous, full of bitterness and scorn, the antagonist of the rabble, whether of courtiers or populace, well-nigh the antagonist of the world, yet borne almost on the wings of angels."

Story of Oratorio.
"Some of the incidents chosen from the life of the great prophet are: King Ahab, ruler of the northern kingdom of Israel, wed to Jezebel, who espoused Baal worship in the land. The nations were enjoying too great prosperity and forgot God until all but 700 had bowed the knee to Baal. Thereupon begins the three year drought, the opening chorus being the cry of help to God."

"After three years Elijah appears and announces the close of the drought and summons the 450 prophets of Baal to build an altar and place a sacrifice thereon and call upon their god Baal. An altar is also created to Elijah's god Jehovah, and Elijah announces that the true god will send down fire from heaven to consume his sacrifice."

"Nothing can be more thrilling than this scene, the 450 priests cry aloud in vain from morning until noon. But when Elijah calls upon the Lord the fire descends and consumes his offering."

Musical Numbers.
"Finally Elijah prays for rain, then follows the beautiful 'Thanks be to God' and chorus. The oratorio from beginning to end is a succession of beauties, the cry of the people, 'Lord, Bow Down Thine Ear'; the duet, 'Zion Spreadeth Her Hands'; the beautiful tenor aria 'If With All Your Hearts'; the double quartet of angels, which Elijah hears by Cherith's brook, 'For He Shall Give Anger to His Enemies'; the double chorus, 'Baal, We Cry to Thee'; Elijah's splendid aria, 'O Lord God of Abraham'; the angelic quartet, 'Cast Thy Burdens On the Lord'; the beautiful comforting 'Oh Rest in the Lord.'"

"This masterpiece concludes with the beautiful quartet 'Come Everyone That Thirsteth' and the majestic chorus, 'And Then Shall Your Light.'"

TOURIST TRAFFIC OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Head of Passenger Branch of Santa Fe Expects Big Business

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—E. W. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe system, who arrived here this week from headquarters in Chicago, announced that the outlook for a heavy tourist travel over the company's lines the coming spring and summer never was brighter.

The traffic chief bases his statement upon conversations recently held with the principal tourist and travel officials in the big centers including New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit and elsewhere. In Chicago, where he always is in the closest contact, the official stated that the Pullman diagrams for March already are about filled, there being little room left. This includes both the Santa Fe's overland and limited trains, the latter running two and three sections every day in the year.

"The Santa Fe passenger business the past year showed an increase of 25 per cent," said Mr. Black. "And this year gives promise of exceeding that mark. The travel to the national parks shows a big increase. During the past season we handled 62,750 passengers into the Grand Canyon, while as many more went there by auto."

Add New Train.
The official stated that the travel between Chicago and California had grown to such extent that the six daily trains regularly operated between Los Angeles-San Francisco and Chicago were not sufficient, and a new, fast limited train would be put on, possibly next fall. It is planned to make this the fastest transcontinental flyer in the world.

The fact that California has enjoyed a balmy winter this year, he said, has given the state a tremendous amount of good advertising, as the weather conditions elsewhere over the country have not been so ideal. Few people, he said, realize the value of the tourist travel, and the selling of California and the Pacific Coast states. Many of the travelers return to the East, sell their belongings and come back to California, New Mexico or Arizona to live.

COMMENT That's All

A Debt of Gratitude
Events in Young Lives
What Our Critics Say
A Case of Sour Grapes

By Gil A. Cowan

Glendale owes a debt of gratitude to the film stars who come here and entertain us for the benefit of worthy charity. For instance, the American Legion show on Wednesday night gave a dozen stars of first magnitude the opportunity to return to the stage, from whence most of them have come, and give their talent to a good cause.

In fact, Glendale people have come to know and love many of the film celebrities. They are quite a part of the community life, although their work and their very life takes them away from human contact of the hot polloi. Perhaps it is due to a desire on their part to make this a happier world by word of mouth, as well as pictured pantomime, that they come forth and play their part.

What really seems an imposition, however, is their willingness to contribute to every cause so presented in coin of the realm. Dear old Will Rogers, for instance, was unable to be present, yet to signify his good faith, he wrote out a check for a sizable sum. For that double thanks is due him, and others who did likewise. Of course, Will Rogers is highly paid. He likely doesn't miss the dollars given in such good faith, but there are others far more able to give to the disabled former service men. For instance, the United States government and the millionaires who are fighting the adjusted compensation measure. Would that the war profiteers were as good citizens as our film stars.

Two events of interest to the youth of Glendale—those who attend high school and the southern branch, University of California. Jinks day at the local institution of learning sees a carnival of fun, every pupil attending in costume. The spirit of youth is on every hand, even in the classrooms.

It is Grizzly day at the southern branch. California songs are being sung as this is being printed. California yells ring out over the campus on Vermont avenue. A carnival of sports is in progress.

The reason for this celebration is recognition of the branch with its 4000 students as a full-fledged university with a four-year course. Tonight a huge bonfire, around which the co-eds will gather, brings to a close an epochal day in the lives of the young people attending California in the sunny southland.

It is good to witness such events. They are the evidences of the love of life in us all.

It takes the Denver Post, or the Hutchinson, Kan., News to tell about California in a manner more interesting than the fables of Baron Munchausen. Here is the latest from Wichita, written by a resident of Los Angeles vicinity:

"Our Chamber of Commerce sends out some very misleading statements, alluring to all, and induces many to leave their good homes in the east to come out here. When they arrive they cannot find things which they saw in print."

"Many of them come by auto and live in auto camps where they can rent camping space for 25 cents a night and save paying the prohibitive prices of house rent. Then the man uses his auto to run about town to look for work, which he was told is plentiful."

"Many of them come to spend the winter, but they express their disgust in not locating any kind of work."

"Our street car service is rotten. They do not run enough cars at any time, and in no other city will you find so many straphangers as here."

"The authorities are very lax in handling the traffic and all crossings are dangerous, with so many reckless drivers."

"Now as to climate. We have no blizzards of snow and we have no zero weather. There is no skating on our lakes and rivers. The Los Angeles river, by the way, could easily be converted into a roller skating rink, as the river is bottom side up—no water on the surface. Yet I have seen pictures of it with big ships on it, which is used as bait to send east. If you should come to town at 9 a. m. and leave about 4 p. m., you would say this was a delightful climate, but before and after that you would readily change your mind."

One would have to dress like an Eskimo to sit out after sunset. The fogs come rolling in and make it very unhealthy breathing."

Perhaps we should pay no attention to the writer of the foregoing. It is too ridiculous. But facts are facts, and here they are: First, our Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, for instance, has made one misstatement in its literature, to the writer's knowledge. It printed a picture of a projected hotel which has not yet materialized. In due time it will be built, no doubt.

In the meantime, however, apartment houses have been actually erected here to care for more people than the particular hotel pictured. Also, a smaller hotel has been built by other parties. So much for that misdirected enthusiasm. It has deluded no one, for good hotel accommodations are to be had in private homes at a figure more reasonable than a hotel.

PUPILS APPROVE SCHOOL UNIFORM IDEA FOR GIRLS

Fancy Dresses to Appear on Campus Only Four Days
Of Each Year

Dame Fashion, who always has many lovely things in store for the high school misses, is to be ostracized from the campus of the Broadway and Harvard High schools with the beginning of the fall term in September. The girls of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes decided yesterday by a vote of 626 to 147 the future policy of dress for Glendale High school girls in favor of a definite uniform.

While the small minority opposing the uniform dress, tenaciously repeated the cry that "uniform dress would be deadly monotonous," the majority easily voted in what they declare to be "one of the democratic measures in the high school organization."

And now that it's all over the 750 or more girls who participated in the voting are unanimous in their endeavor that uniform dress shall be a permanent ruling for Glendale High school girls.

Adopted Once Before.
The uniform dress was adopted by Glendale girls several years ago but the project was never carried out. However, according to plans for the ruling going into effect next September, it will become a permanent part of the school administration.

Following the style of uniforms worn in other high schools in California, the one adopted by the Glendale High school calls for a dark blue wool pleated skirt worn with a regulation middie with blue collar and cuffs or with a white middie, with regulation black sailor tie. Any kind of shoes and hose will be permitted except satin shoes and French heels.

From April to November a pleated white skirt may be worn. From November to April a blue flannel middie will be permitted.

Further ruling states that a sweater can be worn with the uniform. However, slip-over sweaters will not be permitted.

"Civvy" Days Set.
Opportunities for originality in dress will probably be given four times during the school year, for a "civvy" day will be held once a quarter, when the girls will discard their uniforms for other dresses.

A uniform board will govern the dress ruling. There will be a chairman and faculty advisers chosen annually by the girls' league. The faculty adviser will then choose four girls from the four classes, to serve on the board.

Parents, teachers, girls, and even the boys express themselves as heartily in favor of the result of the election, while Dame Fashion smiles with glee, for she has all spring and early summer to charm the Glendale High school misses with her fads and furbelows.

of twenty-four hours he was at work. Very few have to wait that long if they are willing and capable.

The street car service, insofar as Glendale is concerned, proves to be satisfactory, although there is some complaint about the high fare. It is true that the 5-cent yellow cars on some lines in Los Angeles are crowded at rush hours, but that is a local condition and not a general fact in southern California.

The charge that authorities are very lax in handling the traffic may be denied by any motorist, who wonders sometimes at the capacity of the thoroughfares to accommodate as many cars as are listed to southern California owners. We would be pleased to see the Denver or Wichita do as well.

The Los Angeles river, like all rivers in the great southwest, is a channel for seasonal floods. It is not navigable, and pictures of ocean steamers in the Los Angeles CHANNEL between San Pedro and Wilmington, not the Los Angeles RIVER, should not be misinterpreted. Harbor records speak for themselves regarding the tonnage of coastal shipping being greater at the port of Los Angeles than the port of New York.

Now, as to climate—a moot subject—the critic admits it is good during the daytime. Speaking for Glendale, the writer of this column has had occasion to be in the office nights for the past month, during alterations. Both the front and rear of the building have been open wide. And it has not been necessary to dress like an Eskimo. Nothing more than an electric light has heated us, although plenty of gas and electric stoves were available. There has been little fog, some rain, but no ill effects suffered by the delicate printing machinery. The lowest temperature we have noted was 50, which could not be considered cold by Kansans. That is the record for March to date.

And if our critic craves snow, it is to be found in the mountains less than 100 miles from here. If he wants to hear the swish of rivers, Mill creek, or Owens river or some other stream is within six hours' ride by motor car. Never was so varied a climate offered the world. California has it all. Only yesterday there was a Kansas windstorm in certain parts.

The writer saw a flood at Council Grove, Kan., one winter that did more damage than anything ever seen in these parts. Yes, and tornado ruins in Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois—but what's the use? The comparison is too odious. And that's what the folks "back there" are so about. It is purely a case of "sour grapes."

BOOTLEGGERS USE GRAFT AS EXCUSE

Justify Operations By Higher-Ups' Acts, Says Professor

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 21.—The Teapot Dome scandal at Washington will give a new impetus to bootlegging, declared Dr. William P. Baker, regent of the University of the State of New York. Dr. Baker says:

"There isn't a bootlegger in the country who will not see in this a justification of his business. He will suggest that if the 'topliners' are getting theirs, there isn't a reason in the world why he shouldn't be getting his share too. And we have quite enough lawlessness as it is."

"It is not true, however, that there is more corruption and thievery in public office than in private life. When a man goes wrong in business the whole tendency is to cover it up and to give him another chance. If this can't be done, of course he has to take the consequences."

"In public life, on the contrary, when a man goes wrong everybody knows about it sooner or later. Somebody probably will have to go to the penitentiary in this Teapot Dome situation, and the Government undoubtedly will win its court actions, as it usually has a habit of doing. But there will be a tendency to keep this thing in the limelight until all of us are sick of it, and Congress has altogether too much other business to attend to."

"As a matter of fact, the Veterans' Bureau scandal is far worse in many respects, for that was stealing money from our crippled and invalid soldiers. Still the Teapot Dome matter has gotten the inside track of the public mind, and the other isn't getting the attention it deserves."

Plan Formal Opening For Glendale Tavern

Glendale Tavern at 1120 South San Fernando road reopened its doors last night under new management with Billy Beck in charge. The owners come from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Fresno and San Francisco and are depending on their large circle of acquaintances for a ready patronage although they plan to hold a formal opening Thursday night of next week after their new crew has become accustomed to the dietary desires. Private dining rooms and dancing are a feature of the Tavern.

CONSTITUTION IN NEED OF CHANGE

League of Municipalities
Backing New One
For California

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Adoption of a new state constitution was advocated at a two-day meet held in this city by the California League of Municipalities representing 246 cities in state.

Supporting the movement, H. Mason of Palo Alto, secretary of the association, said that "Since 1879, when the present state constitution was adopted, it has been carved, remodeled and changed until it has become almost entirely useless." In connection with the fight for a new state constitution, the league will investigate the practicability of a state manager, occupying a similar position with reference to state affairs to that city manager in municipal government.

Amendment of the state motor vehicle act to permit cities to participate in motor vehicle regulation as well as state and counties was favored.

RICKARD'S AGENT BUSY IN CANADA

Work in Montreal Revives
Rumor That City Will Get Big Battle

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, March 21.—The presence in Montreal of a representative of Tex Rickard has prompted a revival of reports that the Canadian city will be selected as the scene of a Dempsey-Wills match late this summer. The emissary is none other than Colonel John Hammond, vice president of the Madison Square Garden corporation, and his trip to Montreal was for the ostensible purpose of making arrangements for the formation of an international hockey league, but the good people of the Dominion are pleased to think otherwise. They infer that Colonel Hammond has been given the responsibility of looking over the ground as an advance agent for the Dempsey-Wills matter and point to the fact that Rickard himself would have made the trip if the congressional investigators in Washington had been less curious about the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures.

Both Rickard and Colonel Hammond are doing all their talking in the sign language right now and with good reason. About this time last year Rickard was ready to do business with Dempsey and Wills in Montreal and even went so far as to dispatch Frank Flounoy, his business associate, to the proposed site to make soundings off the deep end. Mr. Flounoy and his merry game were foiled by premature publicity and the enterprise abandoned with due haste. At that time the Mount Royal race track was favored as the logical arena for the affair and it is presumed that existing plans, if any, include the same site.

At the same time it is equally possible that Rickard still holds to his expressed determination to handle the Dempsey-Wills match with a pitchfork, if at all. Then again, he may realize that he is playing with dynamite but may have no alternative.

Ha has tossed Tom Gibbons over the left shoulder and has caused the belief to become general that he is highly affronted with the tactics of Senor Firpo, the fur-bearing specimen. By a process of elimination, this leaves only Wills to play around with, although it is taken for granted that Rickard and Firpo will think better of it in due time.

The promoter, however, is not the type that has a single iron in the fire. It would be typical of the man to have a Dempsey-Wills proposition cooking when Firpo arrives here next month and then select the bout that appealed most to his sense of caution and expediency.

But if Montreal will stand hatched it is divulging no star chamber secret to say that Rickard will hasten thence with Dempsey and Wills. That bout would draw in the middle of the Mojave desert.

Cubs Meet Tigers In Last of L. A. Series

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—The Chicago Cubs tackled the Vernon Tigers here this afternoon. Another game will be played tomorrow. After playing the Angels on Sunday the Cubs will leave for Oakland for a series of games there.

Frank Chance, Chicago White Sox manager, will return here next week to prepare to leave for the White Sox training camp. Chance has been recuperating in the mountains. His health is improving rapidly.

Karn Randall, Angel infielder, has been sold to the Wichita club in the Western league.

Elect Fulton Captain Of Tiger Ball Squad

Elton "Squint" Fulton has been elected captain of the Occidental college varsity baseball team. Fulton is the star pitcher on the team and has been working hard all season. He is fast rounding into shape and his arm proved the downfall of many a batter last season. Johnny Powers is still cut for track and will not be able to relieve Fulton on the mound until after the Penn and Oxy relays are over. Coach Wilkie Clark believes the newly elected captain is one of the best twirlers in the conference. Besides playing baseball, Fulton is on the track team and broad jumps around twenty-two feet regularly.

Freshmen Track Meet Is Set for April 4

The Southern California Conference freshmen track meet is to be held on Patterson field Friday afternoon, April 4. Occidental college has complete charge of all arrangements. The prospects are favorable for a very lively meet with Pomona and Oxy sharing the top honors. There are several star athletes distributed among the conference colleges. Pomona, Caltech, S. B. U. C., and Occidental are the institutions that will take part. Redlands and Whittier have no fresh team, and barely enough men to organize a varsity.

HALF MILLION TO FIRPO FOR TOUR

Will Be Offered Chance to Rake In Cash Without Fighting Dempsey

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, March 21.—Without being forced to the necessity of raising his hand in anger, least of all engaging in another furious frolic with Jack Dempsey, the sum of a half-million easy American dollars awaits Luis Firpo in the United States, according to conservative advisers. These are advanced by Billy McCarney, who is Firpo's director of exhibition tours.

McCarney all but had the money, but has stayed his hand in order to consider the cave man's repeated declaration that he plans to retire to a life of ease and refinement. He is somewhat aghast as the senior's unethical remarks, but hopes for the best.

Tour Is Planned
Meantime, he is keeping an ambitious schedule of exhibition dates in the palm of his hand where all might see and admire. It includes appearances at Baltimore, Covington, Ky.; Louisville, Ky.; Marietta, Ohio; St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Memphis, Saskatoon, Winnipeg; Windsor, Ontario; Columbus, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Great care has been exercised in the selection of tentative opponents, and for the benefit of those who might esteem to fling a fist with Luis anywhere along the line of march, it might be stated that only near-beer heavyweights need apply. To date Fred Fulton has been nominated for the performance at St. Paul, Jack McAuliffe at Windsor, Cliff Kramer at Winnipeg and George Godfrey at Philadelphia. With the possible exception of Godfrey, they are quite harmless.

Cash Will Fall
In spite of the character and natural inclinations of the victims, great gobs of money await the senior at every box office. And the most inviting aspect of the situation is that he can collect without the painful necessity of dallying with that rough Dempsey again. Wherefore the boys are disposed to splot at Luis' retirement stories. Is it possible that he will sneer at real money? Personally, we can just as readily conceive a new pole vault record by Big Bill Edwards.

Is the deterioration of athletes in Great Britain going to be emphasized once more by the showing of the athletes chosen to represent the empire at the Olympic games in Paris next summer? It would appear that way.

Britons look in vain for a Walker, a Halswell, a Rimmer, a Lerner, Flack, Jackson, Voight or Edwards to carry the colors to victory in the coming classic. What few points the British Lion will be able to gloat over probably will be scored by athletes from the far off dominions—Australia and South Africa unless Griffin, a Scotchman, shines in the 800-meter event.

Betts, South African quarter-mile star, should give any middle distance runner entered a run for his money. Carr, Australian sprinter, looms as the most formidable runner America and Finland—strongest teams four years ago—will face.

The decline of British athletics in general is little short of tragic. Boxing as we know it was born in England. The British Isles produced the great ring men of old London prize ring rule days. Then the supremacy slipped across the Atlantic. Track and field sports, golf and tennis were "raised" by Britishers, only to pine away in later years. The British Isles' supremacy in soccer and rugby can almost be questioned, now as American stars loom.

Old time fans recall that the first severe blow dealt Great Britain in track athletics was handed out by the old Manhattan Athletic club, when the stars of that organization, a generation ago, met the best men the London Athletic club could produce and bested them in a great tournament in New York.

It is unbelievable that England, always loyal to its athletes and with all ends of the globe from which to draw, cannot find men to elevate athletic standards to the former higher plane. Once more has been a foolish enough to think he can fool father time. Johnny Buff, former bantam champ and old enough to know better, has returned to the ring. Someone with influence should cut Buff wise to himself. Here is a man young in years and with a wife and baby to live for, who, by going back into the ring at his age, stands a good chance of becoming "punch crazy" and a care to his wife and friends. Why can't he gain by the experience of Ad Wolgast and others. Poor old Ad trains continuously these days, it is said, for an imaginary fight.

Joe Lynch has been given another promising minor league pitcher in Harry Baldwin, the best pitcher on the Newark International league team last season. Jawn makes no bones about his desire to strengthen his pitching staff, which almost cost the Giants the league pennant last season and did fall in the crisis in the world's series.

The dope now is that Irwin Uteritz, star quarter of Michigan's great grid team of last season, will seek fame on the diamond. He has been signed by the Red Sox, it is said and will be sent to Waterbury in the Eastern league for a season's experience. He is to finish his college career in a few weeks.

A man who is contemplating a political career has no business umpiring a ball game.

weight title of America; and within a month defended his middleweight title against Johnny Wilson, tipping the beam at 158 pounds.

Greb can't hit a lick but he has a peculiar style. His gloves are always flying and keep his opponent busy ducking them. One day he meets a middle weight, the next week a 200-pound heavy-weight, and the following week tackles a light heavy—and trims them all.

If he is beaten it is only by a very slight margin, as it seems impossible to hurt him. The only time he was smeared over the canvas was in 1913 when George Chip dropped him in two rounds.

Remember way back when—ball players played with busted digits and cracked ribs? When the catchers caught barehanded and weren't in real topnotch form behind the plate until their hands were puffed out of shape and numb from the impact of the balls?

Well, times have been changing constantly since then. Of late years ball players have figured that, on a basis of $10,000 a year salary, a sprained thumb ought to be worth a week's rest and a story or two. But the latest ailment wins the berries.

Ernest Osborne, Chicago Cub pitcher, has just been operated on for a case of "curling eye lashes." Osborne, in notifying the club of the affair, explains that his eye-lashes, after growing out according to Hoyle, developed curvature of the spine, so to speak and often touched his eyes, causing discomfort and hindering his vision at times. Whew!

George Chaney, once aspirant to Johnny Kilbane's crown and who later became the knoekout king of the lightweight ranks, has retired. And a thorough survey of the boxing field finds not a single fighter shedding any tears. Chaney carried a stronger brand of knockouts drops in both mitts than many a middleweight. Boy, he could hit! He had an unhappy habit of fouling, however.

The dope is now that the Indians and Red Sox outfoxed the Tigers in the recent deals which moved Bob Veach from Detroit to Boston, George Burns from Boston to Cleveland and Bill Wamby from the Ohio city to Boston. 'Tis said that Cobb sought Wamby at one time, demanding that the Red Sox obtain him and send him to Jungleville if he wanted Veach. The Sox wanted Wamby for keeps if they got him. Cleveland apparently didn't care to dispose of Wamby. Cobb then decided to allow Veach to go for cash. After which the Boston-Cleveland deal was pulled off. If so that's a tough one on Ty Cobb.

John McGraw has grabbed off another promising minor league pitcher in Harry Baldwin, the best pitcher on the Newark International league team last season. Jawn makes no bones about his desire to strengthen his pitching staff, which almost cost the Giants the league pennant last season and did fall in the crisis in the world's series.

The dope now is that Irwin Uteritz, star quarter of Michigan's great grid team of last season, will seek fame on the diamond. Speedy Swede Cancels Trip

of Beating De Palma

Sig Haugdahl has cancelled his proposed trip to Australia to participate in the opening of the new Sydney track, and redoubled his efforts to get his Deussenberg tuned to concert pitch for next Sunday's events at Ascot.

"The only thing now on my mind is to demonstrate to the racing fans of California that I can develop, tune up and drive in a race my Deussenberg car faster than any other pilot can turn Ascot in competition," said the famous Norwegian speed king. "The failure of my car to perform last Sunday put me in a hole with the public, something I am unaccustomed to. From now on, when I start at Ascot my cars are going to be right. I did not have sufficient time to get my new car in shape, but it will be right when I go to the post in the Ascot Helmet dash on Sunday."

DePalma Favored
Ralph DePalma has been installed as the big favorite in the Dorothy Vernon sweepstakes, the feature of Ascot's program for next Sunday. Leon Duray, Fred Horey, Fred Lecklider, Art Davidson, Eddie Meyer and Freddy Frame, the other contestants in the big eight-cornered battle royal, are all confident of victory. Davidson's new car, which Louis Chevrolet designed and built especially for his protege to use at Ascot, has proven in practice all that Davidson hoped it would do.

In the early morning practice Leon Duray shaded Davidson by one-fifth of a second, but did not drive the turns with the sensational touch that Davidson gave to his car.

TWO MORE GAMES ON NET PROGRAM

Tiger Tennis Team to Play Trojans and Loyola in Racquet Schedule

Occidental has two more tennis matches before the varsity meet will pack away their racquets for the season. The Tigers are scheduled to meet the University of Southern California some time next week. A return match with Loyola is also being arranged. Oxy won the first tournament with Loyola, 6 to 1.

When U. S. C. and Oxy hook up on the courts there will be plenty of action and some wonderful exhibitions of tennis. The Trojans are prepared to hand Oxy another defeat, but Oxy has it all figured out the other way. Harold Dickenson, Southern California junior tennis champion several years ago, and now attending the Eagle Rock institution, will be eligible to represent the Orange and Black against the Trojans. Dickenson is playing in the Ambassador invitational tennis tournament this week and ranks high among the southern stars. He is capable of defeating any man on the Tiger varsity and probably will play first singles in the U. S. C. contest and also first doubles with Palmer.

The varsity players have made a good showing during the conference season, winning three matches and dropping two. They were defeated by Pomona and Southern Branch, the conference champions. Several Occidental tennis players are to enter the Ojai Valley tennis tournament, which starts Thursday, April 24, and continues through the week, with the finals Sunday, April 27. Dickenson, Palmer, Boice, Finnell, Raymond and Strayer are all to represent Oxy in the various events.

ELLINGTON DONS WHITE STOCKINGS

Van Nuys Youngster to Do His Stuff for Glendale Sunday Afternoon

"Cy" Ellington, star infielder of the Van Nuys team in the San Fernando winter league, and one of the heaviest hitters in the circuit, will make his debut in White Sox uniform against the Pasadena Merchants when these two teams line up in a return game next Sunday afternoon at the Sox park on San Fernando road.

Ellington, who in addition to pastime with Van Nuys, has his mail addressed there on week days, is one of the likeliest looking youngsters in southern California. Frank Kerwin has had his eye on him for some time but it was only this week that he could induce him to play with the Sox. He can play either short or first, but prefers the former position. His performance with the stick during the winter placed him in the limelight, and Kerwin says he will be a welcome addition to the offensive strength of the Sox.

Thomas Sad and Sorry

"Lefty" Thomas is very much peeved about last Sunday's game. After pitching major league ball for seven innings he weakened and let the Sox get away with the afternoon's bacon. He blames it on his lack of condition, and has been working faithfully this week in the hope that he can stay the limit next Sunday. If the former Coast leaguer can stay the distance and display the same winning that he did in the earlier innings last Sunday, the game is as good as in for the Merchants.

Thornton, however, looks better each successive game, and will take the mound again next Sunday. Pete Lewis will again do the receiving. As the two teams are playing on the winner-take-all basis, there should not be much loafing on the job.

Firpo Reaffirms His Intent to Quit Ring

CARPENTIER AND GIBBONS TO SCRAP

Signed for Michigan City on July 4 with Champion Third Man in Ring

By LARRY SMITS
For International News Service
CHICAGO, March 21.—The biggest international bout since Luis Firpo fooled himself into stopping one of Jack Dempsey's justly famous fists was clinched Thursday afternoon, following announcement of a week ago that Tommy Gibbons and Georges Carpentier would meet in Michigan City next July 4.

Close on the heels of a declaration by Floyd Fitzsimmons, Indiana promoter, that he had obtained consent of both principals to the ten-round bout, Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, said he had agreed to terms and would sign articles next Tuesday, when Jack Curley of New York, representing Carpentier, will arrive in Chicago and meet him. The affair is "in," as the boxing parlance has it, to such an extent that the money for expenses incident to the trip has been cabled the famous Frenchman.

Dempsey to Referee

Jack Dempsey positively has given his consent to referee the battle, as was told by International News Service in the original announcement. He also has promised to meet the man who wins in a battle to be staged in the same arena on Labor Day. He previously had counted to a certain extent on a return meeting with Luis Firpo in the Michigan City ring, but that appears to have been definitely declared off.

Both Carpentier and Gibbons have met Dempsey. Gibbons, who went fifteen rounds with the champion last summer in Shelby, Mont., is the only boxer who has succeeded in staying the limit with Dempsey since the latter became champion. Carpentier was knocked out in the fourth round of his encounter with Dempsey in New Jersey.

When Carpentier met Dempsey his end of the purse was large. Gibbons fought for glory and a share in the motion pictures. This time, it is said, Gibbons will receive the long end of the purse. No terms were announced.

Georgia Phenom Will Train for McTigue

NEW YORK, March 21.—Young Stribling, youthful light heavyweight of Macon, Ga., was due to arrive here today to complete his training for his world's championship bout with Mike McTigue at Newark, N. J., on March 31. Training quarters have been reserved for the challenger at the Newark Athletic club.

A successful new way to cut conch shells has been invented in India.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 21.—Saddened by the tragic death of Pat Moran, the Cincinnati Reds are more than ever determined to win the National league bunting this year. And, as they continue their training under the eye of Jack Hendricks, new leader, the feeling grows among them that two pitchers may hold the fate of the club in their hands.

Upon what two Mays may do may depend the Reds' chances for the title and another world's series pot.

The two Mays are: Jackie May, acquired star of the Pacific Coast league.

And Carl Mays, veteran submarine hurler of the American league.

Should each of these gents with the early summer names come through in the month of flowers and help put the Reds in a commanding position in the race before McGraw gets his pitching situation straightened out, the Giants might find the lead too great to cut down.

This, however, is not a discussion of the Reds' chances generally, so to get back to the Mays—

Fans Know Mays' Case

Carl Mays' status is well known to the big league and most minor league fans through his fame. When he is right his submarine shoot is well nigh unbeatable. Last year, however, he was practically worthless to the Yankees. He managed to win five games and lost two. Not enough to encourage the Red bosses and fans much. May's disposition had more to do with his failure to come through last year than the condition of his arm. Mays is moody.

Off days and petty irritation throw him into a sulk. It is known that he was dissatisfied with his situation on the Yankee team and Huggins made no bones of his desire to get rid of him. The Red bosses, including the genial Pat Moran, figured that a change of scenery and general conditions—with the added incentive of being placed in the position of being able to make a pennant-winning team of a club—might make a totally different hurler of him.

The other member of the May duo is as much an uncertainty as the under-seas pitcher—but by the same token has the same opportunity of proving the man or one of the men of the hour in bedville.

May comes from the Pacific coast with an enviable record for last season. He won 19 and lost 22 games—not a startling record in itself. But while doing it he showed a world of stuff. He fanned 149 batters in 320 innings.

This is not his first trip, however, and the reason for his failure to stick the first time presents Hendricks with his problem.

May Faded Early

May was given a trial by the St. Louis Cardinals. When he appeared he had a world of stuff, perfect control, and the confidence needed to face big league batters. He went blue blazes for a while. Then he lost his nerve. Where it went no one knows. His control went to the same place. He faded quietly out of the picture.

Now he comes up with more experience and apparently with the tale.

PICK SHELL CREW TO MEET HUSKIES

Loskamp Will Lead Bruins Against Ancient Foes on April 12

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 21.—With less than a month before the big race of the season, the University of California varsity crew is practicing daily on the Oakland Estuary and promises to give the University of Washington some stiff competition. Coach Carroll Elbright has virtually picked his varsity crew for changes in the seats at this time are unlikely. At present the men in the varsity shell are: Holland, stroke; Donaldson, 7; Cranmer, 6; Harbach, 5; Lindstrom, 4; Bolton, 3; Walker, 2, and Captain Loskamp, bow. Tapscott is in the coxswain's seat.

The Blue and Gold will meet the Huskies at Seattle on April 12 and speed trials will start in a few days. The Bruin Freshmen under the tutelage of Russell Nagler, assistant to Elbright, will meet the Washington Babes immediately after the varsity race.

Plans for a new crew boat-house are now being drawn up following the announcement that a new site has been secured on the Oakland Estuary. Coaches Elbright and Nagler have presented their specifications and the plans will be made to follow these.

Tennis Player Out

Irving Weinstein, ranked number 1 on the tennis team, has been forced to leave college because of the illness of his father. His loss will materially weaken the California tennis squad this year.

Samuel A. Ladar, '25, of San Francisco, has been elected captain of the basketball team for the 1925 season at a meeting of the lettermen. Ladar, who starred at forward this year, is a former Olympic club player. Five other lettermen from this year's squad will play next year.

Joe Bush will try to keep his "fork" delivery on right side of plate next season. Other pitchers will place forks at left of plate, as usual.

the nerve. He should have the latter. One needs it ordinarily to face the hard-handed veterans who find new life and batting eyes on the sunset side of the country. But whether or not he can hold that nerve is the problem.

Should Carl of the upside down shoot and May of the reborn confidence each turn in about 15 or 18 victories for the Redlegs this season, with Donohue, Luque, Rixey and Benton going the way they did last season, the picking would be soft for August Herrmann's crowd.

They May do it. May will tell the tale.

CENTER TRAINING ON ILLINI MEET

Bears Determined to Beat Invaders When Squads Clash April 19

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 21.—Interest in track at the University of California is now centered in the meet with the University of Illinois, which is scheduled to be held on April 19 at Berkeley. With this end in view Coach Walter Christie has been grooming his men daily on California Oval, the weather being such as to admit some good performances.

Captain William Neufeld who consistently brought in around ten points in the meets he participated in last season, has been throwing the discs 138 feet and is followed closely by Lang, Hansen and Francis. Neufeld and the two Dodson brothers are tossing the javelin daily and come close to the 170 mark. Paul Boren and Watkins in the broad jump have been doing 23 feet consistently during the last week.

Sheppard, a veteran, is doing the 220 in 22 2-5, and Hurst, April 19.

OXY AND POMONA TEAMS TO CLASH

Track Men Expect to Lower Records Saturday In Claremont Meet

Occidental and Pomona clash tomorrow afternoon at Claremont in what is predicted to be the greatest track meet ever staged between the two colleges. Coach Pipal's team held a light workout this afternoon, as the Tigers are going to have a job on their hands to defeat the Sagehens.

The results of the preliminary meets show that the deciding feature of Saturday's dual meet between the two leading conference teams will be the four-man mile relay. The team that wins the meet must win the relay, so close are the two teams. Plenty of thrills are in store for the sport fans.

Ryan, Barber and Farnsworth are close. Chase, a sophomore, is doing the 880 in 2:2 3-5. In the hurdles, Corley and Blemmer have been doing the 220 in 26 seconds at several practices. Dunn, Jensen and Mulvaney are running the two mile distance in 10:7.

The Illinois aggregation is reputed to have an evenly balanced team with many consistent performers. But "dope" will not always run true to form, and the outcome will remain undecided until the two teams meet on April 19.

Maxwell of Pomona is never content to stop lowering his time for the hurdles. Frisbee dotes on breaking his own records in the broad jump. Cliff Argue, the Hercules of the Oxy team, is to have hot competition in the sprints and will have to step right along with his teammates Buckman and Nash will finish ahead of him. He has done the century in 9 4-5 this year. Nick Carter, Tiger star miler, is out to break the conference record in the distance event.

Powers Is Back

Johnny Powers, Oxy 440 man, is off the injured list and anxious to defeat the rival institution. Powers pulled a tendon in the A. A. U. relay carnival and has been out ever since. He will strengthen the hopes for a victory in the relay. With Spangler, Ellsworth, Morey and Powers things are bright for a nifty relay team again this year. Pomona will probably make a clean sweep in the hurdles.

Both teams are in good condition for the coming battle. The Sagehens' track was not damaged by the recent rains.

SWIMMERS TO MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Eleven Olympic club mermen will leave here Sunday to represent San Francisco in the national A. A. U. water polo and water championships in Chicago April 1-3. Smith, Robertson and Pinkston will take part in the swimming and diving events and Steiger, Schroth, Gardner, Austin, Carson, Herrington and O'Brien will compete in the water polo contests.

POWERFUL NOVEL
"WHEN A MAN'S A MAN"

FEATURING
John Bowers and Marguerite De La Motte

What makes a man a man? Is it daring—sacrifice—power? Or is it brawn—appearance—character? A story of one who never knew what life could mean until it made him prove himself a man.—And he did prove it, by a supreme and terrible sacrifice, through the unflinching love and inspiration of his ideal.

ored to bring about closer relations with France and to inculcate a friendly spirit between the two countries. French opinion is touchy about tampering with the Versailles treaty, and Macdonald realizes he must move circumspectly in order to win French support. Therefore, Henderson's remarks gave rise to an embarrassing situation for the government. Henderson, however, is not the only offender. Several secretaries and under-secretaries, it is alleged, have made statements in public about matters of policy without the approval of the government. Macdonald, it is understood, is doing his utmost to impress upon his ministers the need for reticence about departmental and governmental matters and is emphasizing the difference between speaking as individuals and as members of the government.

Visits Brother Here On Extended Vacation

Miss Katherine Lee arrived here today from Kansas City, Mo., coming over the Santa Fe, for an extended visit to her brother, Frank L. Lee, and Mrs. Lee, 126 East Elk street. Miss Lee has just disposed of her beauty parlor back east, and is planning to take a long vacation before resuming business, and it is possible that she may decide to locate in Glendale, where her brother is auditor for The Glendale Evening News.

MONTROSE OFFER VETERANS CLUBHOUSE TITLE

Members of Verdugo Hills Post to Discuss Plans At Next Meeting

The Verdugo Hills post No. 288 of the American Legion met on Wednesday evening in Sparr Heights Community house. There was much discussion regarding the attractive offer made the post for a lot as a clubhouse site. However, that project will be taken up at the next meeting.

The speaker of the evening was unavoidably detained, but the boys spent an interesting evening hearing about the Boulder Creek dam. A friendly contest is on among members of the post in attendance. Every week the members draw slips for the attendance prize. This week's prize was two theatre tickets, which were won by Comrade Nelson.

Chocolate and doughnuts were served by the commander and next week's meeting will be adjutant night in the hands of A. T. Baron, while April 2 will be second vice commander's night, in charge of A. T. Blanford.

Will Play Baseball
Montrose school is purchasing new balls and bats with the money won by the pupils in the recent ticket selling campaign for the Parent-Teacher association. The tickets were sold for "Si Stocum's Country Store."

Mrs. K. Meyers of the realty firm of Meyers and Meyers has left for an extensive business trip east. She will spend the major part of her visit in Denver and some days at the Grand Canyon on her return trip.

Charles Easton and his bride have taken up their residence on Orangedale avenue. This is somewhat of a surprise to friends of the couple, as Mr. Easton is an enthusiastic booster for Verdugo City.

Sunday the Montrose Community Methodist church will begin the pre-Easter revival services. Rev. Durr is expecting very large crowds at these services and will appreciate the hearty co-operation of all the valley residents.

advantageous to the government no less than to the people. This is the vital organ of the modern state, who strikes at it deals a deadly wound to the state. "Revolution has never been known to prove a good housewife," concludes the historian. "Revolution and dilapidation are sisters."

NEW SUBDIVISION TO OPEN SUNDAY

Smith & Redman to Launch 'Fairland' Tract on Scenic Boulevard

Fairland, named for Glendale's prize-winning float of that name in the 1924 Tournament of Roses, is the beautiful new subdivision on the million dollar scenic boulevard now under construction, connecting this city with Pasadena. It is being put on by Smith & Redman, selling agents, 214 North Brand boulevard.

L. W. Chobe, who designed the Glendale float "Fairland," resides in the district, and it is there, feel Messrs. Smith and Redman, that he gets his inspiration for the beautiful designs he creates.

The tract is reached by driving east on Broadway or Wilson avenue to Harvey drive and following the arrows; or one may drive east to Verdugo and Sycamore Canyon roads to Sierra avenue, thence to the tract.

Opening Sale Sunday
The pre-opening sale of lots in Fairland has been set by the subdividers for Sunday, March 23, when large, level homesites, including paved streets, curbs, water, gas and electricity, will be offered from $950 to $2050, on terms of 20 per cent down and the balance 2 per cent per month, including interest.

Home-seekers are urged to see this beautiful tract before buying elsewhere and the subdividers will call in a car for everyone who is interested and take them to the tract and back to their homes.

The view from the property, the restfulness that comes from being protected from the noises of the city is one of the most attractive things about Fairland, which is all its name implies and more.

Yet Messrs. Smith & Redman point out that the tract is less than five minutes from the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, by automobile, and is convenient to car service, schools, churches and markets.

Students to Conduct Housing Survey Here

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce is negotiating with the School of Commerce and Business Administration, University of Southern California, to make a survey of the housing situation in Glendale. This will be done shortly by students without charge and will stand as a matter of class work, although it will be invaluable to the city in ascertaining its needs for a future building program, it is predicted by Secretary E. F. Sanders of the chamber.

CANADIAN PLANS TO SETTLE HERE

Evening News Is Factor In Bringing Manitoban to Live In Glendale

The New Year's edition of The Glendale Evening News added so much to the charm of "The fastest growing city in America" that Robert Nisbet of Fort Garry, Manitoba, Can., writes that he is anticipating coming to Glendale to live.

He writes to E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce: "I wish to thank you gratefully for the booklet of beautiful Glendale and for the New Year's edition of The Glendale Evening News. Needless to say, our hearts are in your wonderful city and some time in 1924 will see us there."

"I own two small business blocks in Port Garry and am trying to dispose of them. That is all that is keeping us here. I hope soon to have the pleasure of shaking hands with, and personally thanking you for your courtesy."

Two Auto Accidents Injure Pedestrians
Two accidents involving pedestrians were reported to the police yesterday.

E. H. Beran, while turning to the right into Broadway from Brand boulevard, struck C. H. Mead, 341 West Wilson avenue. He reported that he was not going over five miles per hour at the time of the accident and that Mead was not injured to any extent.

J. Martin, 901 East Lomita avenue, was struck and knocked to the pavement in the 1100 block on East Colorado yesterday afternoon by a machine driven by Hugh Marsh, 4543 Russell avenue, Los Angeles. The injured man was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, where his injuries received attention. Mr. Martin was allowed to proceed to his home by the police.

LA CRESCENTA WATER STOCK TO ADVANCE JULY 1

Crescenta Company Informs Present Holders Price Will Be Doubled

The Crescenta Mutual Water company has issued the following statement to be given the stockholders regarding the proposed raise in the stock to become effective July 1, 1924:

"The directors of the La Crescenta Mutual Water company are now letting contracts for new pipe lines, a new pumping plant for No. 1 well and a new reservoir, all of which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. About one-half of the money to pay for these improvements is in sight at the present time. The balance will have to be derived from the sale of new stock.

"There are about 13,000 acres within our boundaries at the present time and only 400 acres are covered with water stock. The directors have passed a resolution of intention to increase the price of stock from fifty to one hundred dollars per share on July 1, 1924, if sufficient stock is not subscribed previous to this date to pay for these improvements.

"Subscribers may pay for their stock in five equal monthly payments and the company would appreciate their calling at the Montrose office as soon as possible to make application for new stock, so that the board of directors may know how much they can depend on.

Statements on File
"For any one desiring further information regarding the proposed improvements the company have on file Engineer Sonderger's detailed statements of facts which are open to every one. The directors of the company do not desire to boost the price of stock, but must do so unless the owners of vacant, unused land come forward for stock for their property coverage."

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Potts and son Robert, with Miss Margaret Brown as their guest, dined at the Oakmont Country club the other evening.

Tonight is the big Boy Scout Rally. The big bonfire will be up on Los Angeles avenue just below Michigan avenue. Everyone is invited to attend and have a good Scout time. Be on hand at 7:30 p. m.

Will Repeat Play
"Si Stocum's Country Store" will be given again on Monday evening. Since the players gave this play at the beginning of the month with such marked success there has been a steady demand for them to repeat. Finally at the request of the Legion buddies of Verdugo Hills post, the cast will give everyone the privilege of enjoying another evening of fun.

The buddies will stage a camp scene, also sing a number of old trench songs and give some of the 1914-1918 dances. Dr. Brewster, head of the dramatic department of Glendale High school, will give some of his famous readings—very probably some of the most dramatic situations from that Broadway success "Lightning," will be among his selections. The Cranberry Crossroads militia will be on hand and several new specialties. This is for a very good cause as the money is to go entirely to the Legion.

On Tuesday evening the "Country Store" goes up to Tujunga by request, while La Canada has also asked for it. The consensus of opinion has been that "Si Stocum's Country Store" is too good to miss and all who saw it before have signified their intentions of seeing it again. The cast will rehearse tonight before going to the Boy Scout rally.

SALES FORCE FACTOR IN SUCCESS

Ray L. Galvin and Others
Assist Tanner & Hall
Selling Buicks

Tanner & Hall have as their sales manager for Buick cars Ray L. Galvin, a resident of Glendale for ten years, who has established a large circle of friends and clients. He is a member of the Elks' lodge and Kiwanis club.

Mr. Galvin had three years' experience in the local automobile field prior to the last three years he has been boosting Buicks with a remarkable degree of success. Indeed, a large share of the selling end of the business has fallen on Mr. Galvin's shoulders.

Before entering the automobile field here Mr. Galvin was with the R. L. Kent company in various capacities after leaving the superintendency of a Proctor circuit theater in New York.

Motto Is 'Service'

"The motto of our organization is 'Service,'" said Mr. Galvin in an interview today. "In our new home we are better able than ever to take care of Buick owners' every need."

Other members of the selling force include Gus H. Pulliam, John A. Dewar and Jack Martini, all of whom are valuable assets to the Tanner & Hall business.

Mr. Pulliam has been a resident of Glendale for eighteen years and for the last ten years he has been actively engaged in other lines of the motor industry. He has been with Tanner & Hall for more than a year and is well known in local fraternal circles.

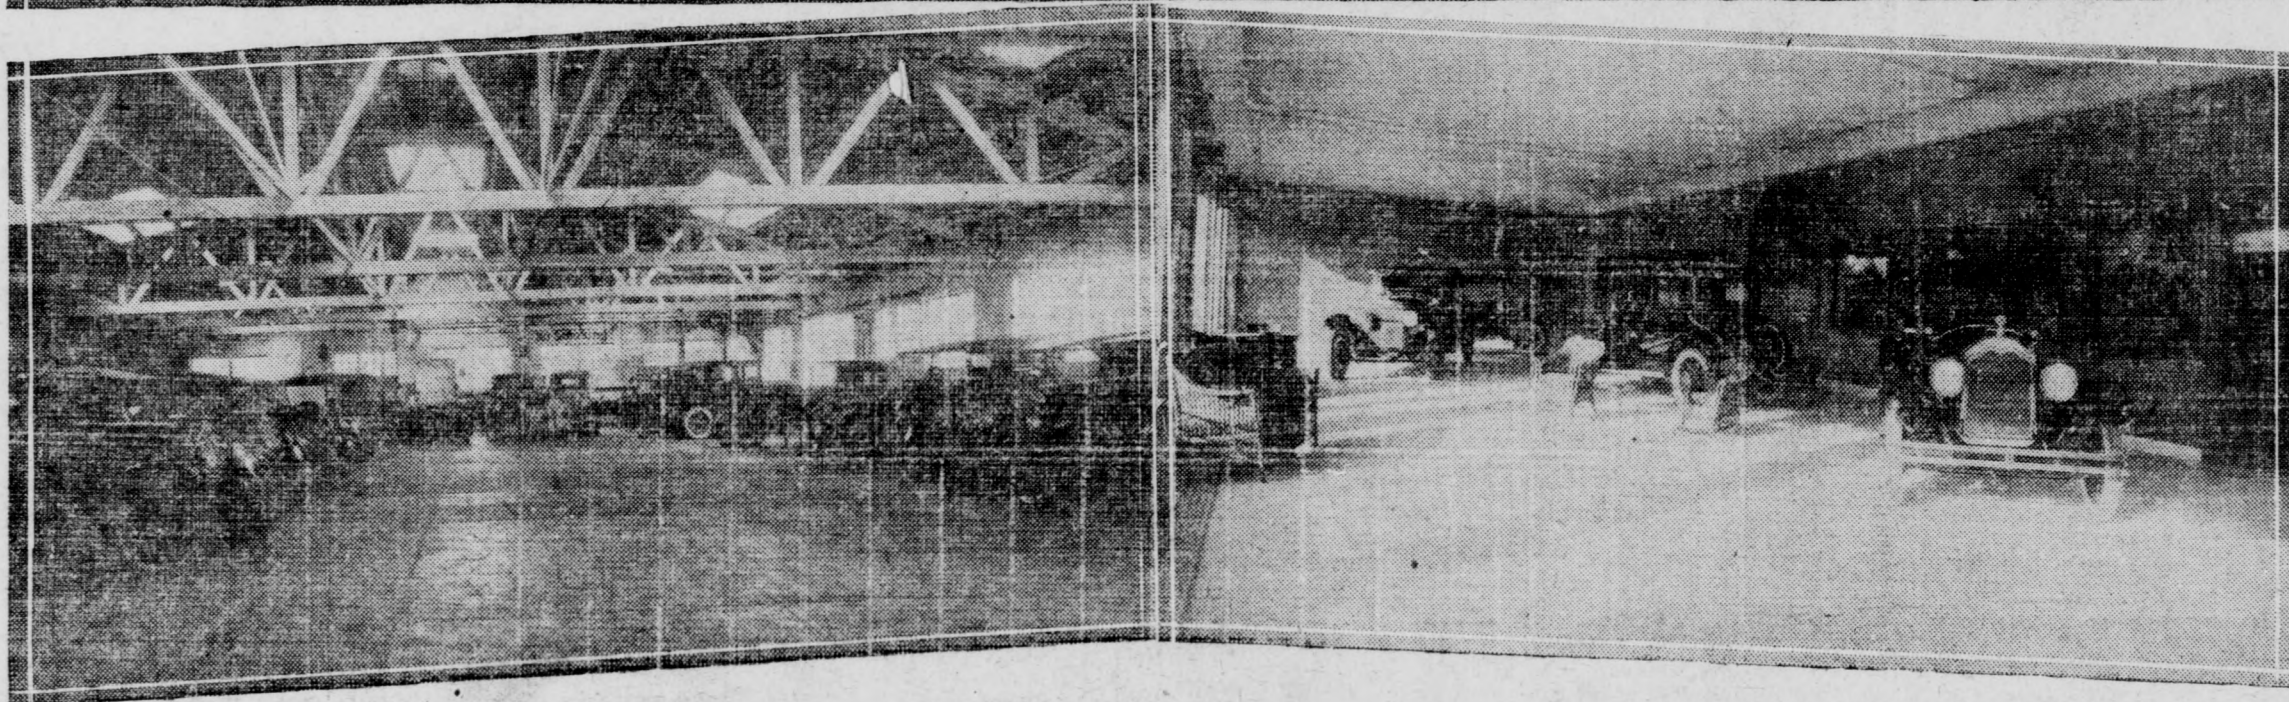

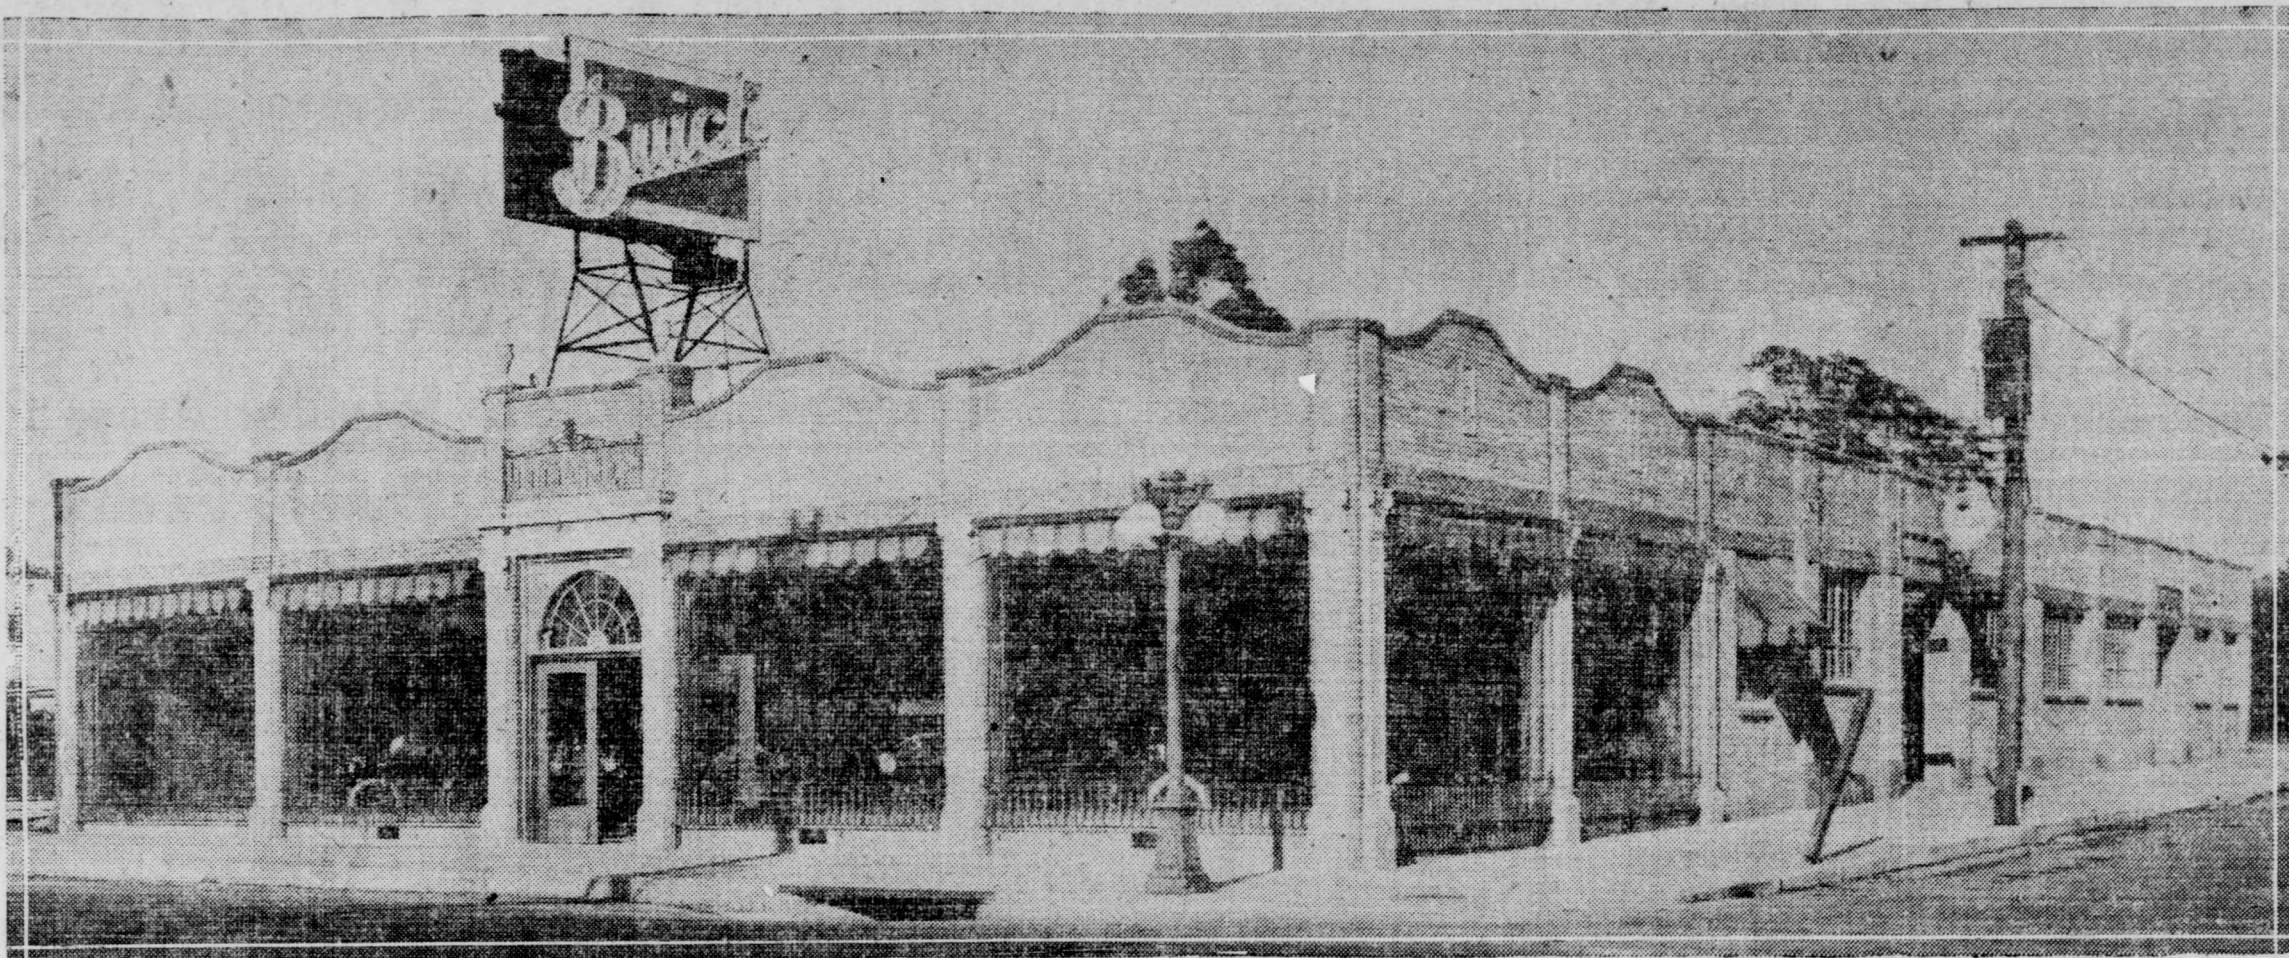

Veteran of World War

Mr. Dewar also has been a resident of Glendale for the last eighteen years and has had eight years in the selling end of the motorcar business. He has been with Buick in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Glendale for four years, prior to that having served with the 55th ammunition train of the heavy artillery overseas during the world war.

Mr. Martini is the latest addition to the sales force, having had several years' experience in the local field.

Recreation for young and old of 475 cities of this country cost the municipalities nearly $10,000,000 last year.

Beautiful New Home of Buick Formally Opens Saturday

Formal opening of Tanner & Hall's new Buick salesrooms and service station will take place tomorrow afternoon and evening, the top picture giving an exterior view of the modern motor car home at Maple street and Brand boulevard. The two lower views give an insight into the spacious display floor with several models of Buick motor cars on show, and the large shop and garage to the rear. The general public is invited to inspect this complete plant Saturday.

TANNER AND HALL MAKE RECORD

Organize Firm Mar. 1, 1919
And Increase Sales to 207 Cars Last Year

The firm of Tanner & Hall was organized March 1, 1919 by W. A. Tanner and Harry E. Hall, who purchased the established agency of the late John G. Huntley, dealer in Buick motor cars for Glendale and Eagle Rock territory, with salesrooms and service at 133 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Tanner, prior to this partnership, had been associated with the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company, both in Nebraska and California, for eleven years. He came to Glendale with that firm in 1914. He has become a member of the Elks' lodge and a Rotarian.

Pioneer Auto Dealer

Mr. Hall is one of the pioneer automobile dealers of Glendale, having taken a financial interest in the Buick business as a substantial investment which would permit him to devote his time to other activities. He is well known in social and club circles.

In 1919 the firm sold forty new cars, which they considered quite an achievement, but each year since has shown a decided increase in sales, and in 1923 there were 207 new Buicks turned over to Glendale owners. This great volume of business has necessitated the new home at the corner of Maple street and Brand boulevard.

Large Volume of Business

In round figures, the Buick business here last year amounted to $450,000—one of the largest volumes enjoyed by any similar concern in Glendale—and it was handled by the two principals, one bookkeeper, a sales force of four and a shop crew of ten.

The record of the Buick sales no doubt, as well as the economical handling of the service departments, is due to the car, which has as its slogan, "When better motor cars are built, Buick will build them."

Customs of the tribes in the vicinity of Baikal Lake, on the northern borders of the Gobi desert in Asia, are practically the same as they were 2,000 years ago.

Tanner & Hall Make Auspicious Occasion of Their Salesrooms and Service Station Completion at Maple St. and Brand Blvd.

Invitations are extended the public to attend the formal opening of the Buick salesroom and service in its new home at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Maple street, Saturday afternoon and evening, March 22. It is an event in the life of Glendale motordom which will create a profound impression of the magnitude and stability of the automotive industry in this section.

W. A. Tanner and Harry E. Hall of the firm of Tanner & Hall, dealers for Glendale and Eagle Rock, are the hosts, the new building being a monument to their foresight of vision and soundness of judgment in Glendale's future. Their establishment has the largest ground floor space of any similar establishment in Glendale, it covering a total area of 11,700 square feet.

Music and Dancing

Music and dancing will be the program of the evening, but many Buick owners and friends, as well as prospective purchasers and the general public, will take pleasure in viewing the ten models of the popular motorcars which will be on the display room floor. They will include the four-cylinder coupe, four-cylinder sedan, four-cylinder touring, four models of the enclosed sixes and three models of the larger open cars, including the popular sport model roadster.

It was in November, 1922, that Tanner & Hall foresaw the desirability of locating their establishment on South Brand boulevard below Colorado street in this business district which is fast becoming "motor row." They then laid plans for the magnificent one-story sales and service station with a 75-foot frontage on Brand boulevard and 156 feet depth on Maple street. Its number is given as 622 South Brand boulevard.

Artistry in Structure

The artistic structure is built of Simons' cream face brick with ornamental iron grill work around the large plate-glass windows, a terra cotta front and a tile trim. It reflects great credit on the work of Elmer Elliott, the building contractor, and Kaeding Construction company, architectural designers. Both are local firms and Mr. Elliott employed sub-contractors in Glendale, also, such as Coker & Taylor, plumbers; the Naudain Electric company, and other well-known firms.

In addition to artistic effect of the building, it is one of the most complete of its kind in Southern California. Private offices are afforded the principals, their bookkeeper and the salesmen, with lavatories, stock rooms and other features not found in ordinary garages.

Perfect Display Room

The interior decorations and themselves to a perfect display of the eight or ten Buick models to be found on the floor of the showrooms, while the shop is painted white to give the utmost in light and cleanliness. Indicative of the detail which Tanner & Hall have given the plans there is a traveling hoist for handling motorcars with facility in the shop. Also, parts to build three complete chassis will be carried, to render immediate service.

Throughout the entire organization "Service" is to be the watchword because this fundamental has been the basis of Buick success here. Not only the firm, but all employees as well invite the public to visit the "home of Buick service" tomorrow afternoon and evening. Salesmanager Ray L. Galvin has been active in arranging the details of this house warming to make it an extraordinarily fine event.

Boy Slayer Describes Death of His Mother

BALTIMORE, March 21.—Refusing to leave the room where lies the dead body of his mother, seventeen-year-old Russell Gibson related how he had shot and killed her while defending her against an attack by his father. The boy said he pointed a pistol at his father to frighten him and the gun was discharged, the bullets striking his mother.

"Something slipped and there was a report," the boy explained. "I tried to shut it off but it kept shooting. I didn't know I had killed my mother. I loved her with all my heart."

The word "sling" is itself slang in origin and is supposed to be connected with the English word "sling," meaning "reproduce."

Congratulations to Tanner & Hall on their new building

It is a real addition to automobile row on Brand Boulevard. We are glad to have had an important part in furnishing materials for this magnificent structure.

SERVICE KEYNOTE OF BUICK SUCCESS

F. W. Park, Shop Foreman
For Tanner & Hall, Is Factory Branch Expert

Fully realizing that "service" is the keynote of success in the motorcar business Tanner & Hall have left nothing undone in the way of providing Buick patrons with the best to be had. F. W. Park, for fourteen years in Buick service, has been selected as shop foreman. He has recently come here from Chicago, where he was in the employ of the Buick factory branch.

Ten men are at the command of Buick owners in the service department of the new establishment at Maple street and Brand boulevard. Mr. Park considers the shop the most fully equipped in Glendale, with an overhead track for hoisting cars. Every mechanical device, as well as special tools, needed for perfect Buick service are to be found in the shop. Approximately $5,000 is invested in this equipment, it is said.

A complete line of parts, bought by the carload, are being put into the modern parts department and there will be sufficient to build three complete chassis at any time. Another $5,000 is invested in this service feature.

Mr. Park invites the many drivers of Buick cars in Glendale and vicinity to drop in and get acquainted with the shop service.

Plans to Obtain Tract
for Industries

Numerous suggestions for the development of Burbank were made at the last meeting of the Realty board, among them one that subdividers turn over 2 per cent of their sales into a pool for acquiring an industrial tract. It was also suggested that the subdividers each ante a couple of lots into the pool, which would form the basis for a holding company to purchase such a tract. No definite action was accomplished.

Mayor J. C. Crawford, being present, was called upon to state the sever status, which he did by declaring that within two weeks the City Trustees would be able to declare their intention of constructing a sewer and that said sewer would be ready to serve the industrial district by the middle of August.

The meeting seemed to be characterized by a lack of initiative that hinted of more serious problems in connection with the establishment of a municipal industrial tract than anyone present cared to grapple with.

Plan Cotton Mill

Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce startled many present at the meeting when he hinted that an adequately financed cotton mill was seriously considering the erection of a plant in West Burbank.

Mr. Charleville did not report so favorably on the piston company which has been planning a plant on the site just below the Associated oil company on Olive avenue. The ground was for sale, he understood.

While speaking on the subject of industrial tracts, Mr. Charleville urged that land suitable for factories should, by some means, be preserved for that purpose, either by zoning or otherwise, and not permit all of it to be subdivided. He said that according to an investigation, there were about 1100 acres in Burbank that would be suitable for plants. He said he had about completed a very comprehensive amount of data for the information of textile and automobile concerns and expected to gather special data for glass manufacturers.

A strong point brought out by Mr. Charleville, was that real estate dealers, when negotiating for prospective factories, should be careful in their statements as to railroad facilities, and he urged that all dealers list with him, any industrial property they might have, that he could the better handle any inquiries and also aid the realtors.

Change in Personnel of Vet Bureau Asked

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 21.—Frank Luke, Jr., post of the American Legion adopted resolutions here calling on Congress to change the personnel of the management of the twelfth district United States Veterans' Bureau. The resolutions, which are being widely discussed, state that recent charges have had the effect of increasing the lack of confidence in the present management, thereby destroying efficiency and retarding the rehabilitation and recovery of disabled veterans.

IMPORTS ORCHIDS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Enrique Borgia, Salvador attorney, has arrived here with specimens of twenty rare orchids, which will be presented to the University of California. This is the first time that Salvador orchids have been introduced into America, according to Borgia.

PLANS ENLARGED POWER PROJECTS

Proposed Changes of Coming Year Told to Edison
Stockholders

President John B. Miller of the Southern California Edison company in addressing the annual meeting of stockholders today announced that the project of the company has been greatly increased. Mr. Miller said that from the water power electrical development on the company's Big Creek-San Joaquin river project, with additional steam reserve, the Edison generating capacity will be increased by 2,250,000 horsepower. Its present capacity is 500,000 horsepower of water and steam generated electricity. Among the achievements of the company in the annual report which Mr. Miller presented to the stockholders are the following:

During the year 17,529 stockholders were added, bringing the total number up to 65,636.

Power Increased
One hundred and thirty thousand horsepower of electric energy has been developed from the Big Creek-San Joaquin river project during the year. Auxiliary steam power necessary to render the equilibrium between water and steam generation amounting to 132,000 horsepower will be added during the present year.

Mr. Miller stated that new business amounting to 219,046 horsepower has been contracted for during the year, which will absorb the capacity of new plants constructed last year. Fifty-four thousand, four hundred new consumers were added during the year, making a total of 248,000 consumers served direct from the company's lines, and 150,000 more through energy sold wholesale to municipalities for re-sale.

Concerning rates for electric

Buick Salesman, Tanner & Hall

services, the annual report set forth that on November 15, 1923, a further reduction in rates was authorized by the railroad commission, making the present rates lower than the rates prevailing prior to the war, a condition made possible by the expansion of the company's business and the efficiency and economy resulting from the gradual consummation of its great program of hydro-electric development.

Plan Bond Issue

The present year's budget appropriation of water power and steam generation properties and for transmission and distribution will amount to $26,238,000. The company expects to finance this by the sale of preferred stock amounting to $8,000,000, which will enable it to sell bonds amounting to approximately $18,000,000.

Approximately 18,543,000 head of livestock, valued at $500,000,000, were taken to the Chicago stock yards last year.

Bureau to Issue 500 Permits for Fishing

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Five hundred permits for salmon fishing in Alaska will be issued by the Bureau of Fisheries this season, Commissioner Henry O'Malley has announced. Ninety-three permits have already been granted through the Department of Commerce.

Permits to small local fishermen will be issued when wardens of the Bureau of Fisheries tour the Alaskan peninsula within the next few weeks.

Owing to federal grand jury reports in Alaska last summer indicating the low class of Orientals and other foreigners imported to the Alaskan fishing fields at the opening of the fishing season, carrying with them considerable liquor and narcotics, a close watch on outgoing vessels is to be maintained by the United States customs service, it was announced.

Senator Said He Got Drinks, Another Didn't

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—In a fight over prohibition, Senator Bruce, Democrat of Maryland, late yesterday admitted in the Senate that he had accepted "several drinks" offered him at a recent banquet of the Virginia Bar association.

"It was offered to me and I accepted it and I told them I hoped for many happy returns," said Bruce. The senator cited this instance to Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, to prove a contention that "prohibition was not supported by a majority of the people."

"I was down there too, to a bar association and they didn't offer me any liquor," Walsh retorted.

COUNTRY NEEDS WHAT IT NEEDS, SAYS CANDIDATE

Learned Professor, Seeking Place on Meal Ticket, Builds Platform

What the country really needs, declared Professor Xantippe last night, at the Ali Baba banquet in the Rognes' room of the Hotel Sumptuous on North Grand boulevard, is a man who can give it what it really needs.

It was the learned professor's keynote speech of his forthcoming campaign for presidential nomination on the celebrated Meal ticket and it hit the nail exactly on the head.

"Professor Xantippe is right," was the consensus of opinion following the address. "That is exactly what the country needs."

The effect of the professor's remarks was steady on the market, which advanced several points. In general, edibles are quoted at slightly higher figures today. While Wall Street opened 3000 miles away, it closed in less than half that time. The disturbances occasioned by the address were registered as far distant as Tujunga, seismographs showed.

After devoting a great portion of his time to a eulogy on the timely demise of his contemporary and contemptible rival, the Hon. August September, who met death while chewing gum, when his jaw slipped on a curve, Professor Xantippe got into his launch, cranked it and launched into his subject.

After announcing his platform and appealing to the masses with a promise to divvy up on the Teapot Dome, if elected, Professor Xantippe declared that he was in favor of a folding cabinet that can be carried about with the president. It was safer, he said, and would enable the chief executive to keep his eyes on his secretaries.

The candidate then startled his audience by announcing that he was in need of a secretary and would receive applications after the show.

"The man I will select must be first of all a 100 per cent Glendalian; secondly, he must be a 100 per cent Californian; and last of all, he must be a 100 per cent American. He must be over thirty-eight years old, with the mentality of eighteen. In fact, I will favor a candidate who is exactly thirty-eight years and thirteen months of age. He must speak German, French, English, Dutch, Scandinavian, Spanish, Glendalian, and some American, with interchangeable accents.

"The successful candidate must be a realist and know the contracting business. He must be a member of the Chamber of Commerce and at least one luncheon club, and must have a wife who is a member of the Homely Ladies' society and the Society For the Prevention of Kindness to Insects.

"For such a man there is a large opportunity. I will pay him a salary of $18 a week to start with but less later, as he demonstrates his inability for the position."

Following his address, Professor Xantippe was stormed by applicants and will announce the winner in the next issue. After listening to plausible stories for a half hour, he was seen to wander off alone, in a dazed condition.

When finally located, three days later, the learned professor was in the surveillance ward of the Glendale Union hospital. He had not regained consciousness at the hour of going to press but consented to give out the following interview:

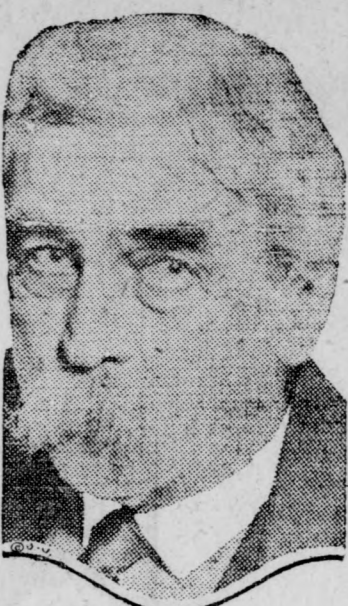

"I had about a dozen drinks at a place on (censored) street, and then I had about a dozen drinks at a place on (censored) street, and then suddenly I just seemed to go to pieces. The Princess and I plan to live in America and brought diamonds over for that purpose."

Finds First Poem Obsolete So Pens Version of Today

Hugh A. D'Arcy

NEW YORK, March 21.—"Twas a balmy summer evening. And a goodly crowd was there—"

But why go on? No need to know it these days. Any way, the author of the immortal classic, "The Face on the Bar-Room Floor," has written another poem, adapted to dry days.

Hugh A. D'Arcy, who composed the poem that has gone around the world, emerged from the obscurity which has enveloped him for years on his eighty-first birthday, and announced the completion of a lyric giving his views on the Dry Era. One verse reflects his opinion. It goes:

"Sing the song of soft stuff, prohibition bring."

Twenty-five thousand iron men from John T. King; When prohibition's ended, and it's bound to die, Sing a song of barleycorn and a pocketful of rye."

Incidentally, he revealed how he was inspired to compose "The Face on the Bar-Room Floor." It was written in a hotel room in New York in 1867 after he had witnessed the visit of a drunkard to Joe Smith's saloon (a memory), at Fourteenth street and Fourth avenue.

He explained that "every reciter said it was his," and that the title in time was changed, being properly "The Face Upon the Floor."

He was never drunk in all his life, he added.

DISCUSS STATUS OF MOVIE SHOWS

Movement for Better Films and Higher Ideals in Art Is Launched

Mrs. Vardeman Bailey of 5244 Hermosa avenue, was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home to the women of the Congregational church, when the moral and educational status of the film industry was exhaustively discussed. The general theme was "The debt eternal of maturity to the youth of America."

After a piano solo by Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Knopf led the devotional, and Mrs. Elderkin sang. Mrs. Hamer then talked on the subject, "The better movie movement in our own neighborhood," analyzing the local status and urging that such a movement should begin at home.

Mrs. Hoff, who followed her, talked on "The standards that should be required in the theatres," pointing out that exercise in this direction is more directly compelling on producers than all the laws that could be passed on censorship.

Children and Art
"Where are our children forming their tastes in art?" Mrs. Muellerweiss asked. The answer was not altogether flattering to the so-called art of the cinema.

Mrs. A. G. Hannaford refuted the argument that there is no demand for educational and religious pictures; while Mrs. Glen Arbogast, who followed, pointed out that dramatization of Biblical episodes revived interest in the scriptures.

The fact that people of education and refinement attend and allow their children to attend motion picture shows they would not allow in their own homes was deplored by Mrs. Helen Pratt.

Mrs. Marshall concluded the program with an appeal for some medium or body through which the public can express its approval or disapproval of the films.

Discuss Morals
Particularly interesting was the discussion on the subject: "Is it legitimate to present, through the medium of art, scenes, words and actions which otherwise would be considered unchaste and immoral?"

Difference of opinion existed on this question, the impression prevailing that it would be difficult to define such terms as "art," "unchaste" and "immoral," as not all would agree that a certain thing was artistic or inartistic, chaste or unchaste, moral or immoral.

The meeting was a decided success, thought-stimulating and the forerunner of a definite movement to guard children of Eagle Rock against improper films.

Happiness and Contentment

DOES the living room furniture we sell our customers give their home that feeling of hospitality? Does it extend that bright warmth of welcome which makes new friends keenly conscious of the home charm and makes old friends want to come again? This we want the public to decide and invite their inspection and fair comparisons.

Our upholstered furniture is not only enduring, but it gives that cordial note that transforms a house into a home.

Through its charming influence in the home our furniture recommends itself to the friends of our customers, thus making more sales for us.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Keys to the Colonies"

BABY DAY

"Dear Dr. Peters: I have a baby nine months old that I have been feeding according to your directions. She has been very healthy and active. This is my problem. She almost has to be fed to be fed orange juice the last few weeks. She also has to be forced to take all fruit juices. I manage to pour a little down her but sometimes she gets so angry that she spits it out. She dislikes everything I give her except the breast, although I have been feeding her since seven months. She is very constipated but does not seem so when I feed her enough, but sometimes she fights so I do not have any success. Shall I starve her to solid food by not letting her nurse?"

"I use glycerine suppositories for constipation when I cannot make her take enough food. Mrs. C."

I give nearly all of your letter because it tells so much. You have a very intelligent baby. Mrs. C. She knows what she wants already and she has found out that if she fights for it long enough she is going to get it. Now she must be taught early that fighting and being disagreeable does not always bring a reward.

Yes, you will have to starve her. She is nine months old and you can begin to wean her now. If she refuses her solid foods, which she has gotten used to, just give her water at the meal she refuses and let her go hungry until the next meal. If she still refuses, give her more water and let her go hungry again. I guarantee she will not refuse after eight hours' starvation. If she were underweight I would advise giving her a little something, but not enough to appease her appetite.

Constipation from under-eating is quite common. The glycerine suppositories or enemas are all right occasionally, but the thing to do is to get her to eat more. This you can do, I am sure, if you follow my directions.

Mrs. H.: You say your baby is one year old, apparently healthy in every way, but she occasionally vomits sour, hard curd, some so large you have to pull them from her throat before they will come out. You say she dislikes spinach and carrots, and if you force them upon her, she vomits.

It may be possible that you are giving her too much milk, or that she is taking it too rapidly. Boiling the milk for three or four minutes will prevent those large curds forming, and if she were getting all the other foods that she should have at one year, it would be all right to boil it.

I rather imagine that you are giving her too much milk. A baby seldom needs more than a quart of milk a day. At 12 months of age the milk can usually be taken unmodified—that is, without any sugar or water or gruel in it. However, if she vomits very often you might dilute her milk with a little thin cereal gruel.

As to the spinach and carrots, read my answer to Mrs. C. above. Children should not be allowed to become finicky about wholesome foods. The sooner they know that any food you give them must be eaten or no other follows, the better.

It is very easy for a baby to vomit. After your baby vomits her spinach, give her some more. And if she vomits that, give her more. Keep on this program and do not give her anything else. She will soon know that she has to keep it down.

At 12 months of age babies should be having three or four level tablespoons of well cooked cereals, three times a day, a small amount of dried toast with a little butter on it, eggs yolk two or three times a week, strained or pureed vegetables up to three or four tablespoons or more and about the same amount of stewed fruit or fresh, scraped fruit.

The detailed accounts of feeding babies and children which I have given from week to week in this column are now in book form. We have lists of other books on the subject which you may have.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one or which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you, to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Mrs. P. H.—"I am herewith sending my recipe for Beaten Biscuits in the hope that, in exchange for it, some kind reader will send me a recipe for Beaten Biscuits which calls for either graham or wholewheat flour."

"My Beaten Biscuits—Mix together and sift one quart of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of baking powder, and one teaspoon of salt; work into this dry mixture, with the finger-tips, one tablespoon of mixed butter and lard, then stir in three-fourths of a cup of sweet milk and one-fourth cup of water. It should just stick together, as the beating softens it. Beat until it blisters and pops and is very smooth, then cut it out into very small biscuits and stick each one with a fork before placing on a greased pan and baking 20 minutes in a hot oven."

C. N.—"I wonder if others would not like my favorite custard recipe? Here it is: Caramel Baked Custard—Put into your frying pan one-half cup of granulated sugar and place over low heat till melted, then add one-half cup of boiling water and simmer ten minutes or till it becomes a thick sirup (it will sizzle when you add this water, and lump up, but cooking will melt almost all of the lumps). Strain it and set aside. Then beat four whole eggs and two additional egg-yolks slightly (this means a good many eggs to use, but for a guest meal it is worth while); add one-third cup of granulated sugar, a pinch of salt, and then, still beating, add the strained caramel-sirup and two cups of scalded sweet milk. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and sprinkle the top with one-fourth cupful of finely-pounded peanut brittle. This gives it delicious flavor. Place the baking dish in a pan containing a little warm water and slip it, in this way, into a moderate oven. Bake about 40 minutes, or till the middle of the custard is firm. Do not increase heat, as the water in the pan must not boil—or the custard will 'wey'. Serve cold."

Rheba Crawford

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21.—She's going to be married. Rheba Crawford, the pretty Salvation Army lass who captured the attention of the whole country by persisting in holding services in blazing Broadway despite opposition of police (because the crowds blocked traffic) will be wedded soon to Harold Sommers, St. Petersburg business man.

Captain Rheba resigned from the army because of the enormous publicity given her following her defiance of the police. Lately she has been conducting a revival mission in a tent here.

Sommers is an example of the preaching Rheba was disseminating on Broadway a year ago. "A man may be down, but he's never out."

Four years ago he came to St. Petersburg a crippled war veteran, and "broke." Today he is a wealthy business man.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

FROM A CONTENTED WIFE
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I feel ashamed of the married women who complain and find fault with their husbands. Nine out of ten end up by saying their part as another man who loves them, and that is a give-away in my opinion. If it has gone so far that a man dares to tell a married woman he loves her and advises her to leave her husband, something is wrong with her. I think the husband has just cause to be mean. The man who tries to make a home and keep bills paid certainly is in a position to be a good husband. Why will they play with fire when they know where it ends? I have sympathy for a young girl who does not realize, but the married woman deserves just what she gets.

When I read those letters I feel sorry for the wronged husband, but think the man who tried to worm into another man's family is a low-down cur. I have been married for forty years and have kept boarders all my life. I have had from fifteen to thirty men in my house all my married life, and I can say not one ever said anything out of the way to me. I have a good husband and I always try to keep my place as his wife. I reared four boys and I am happy in the sunset of life.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

THE FEET IN SPRING
If you have any tendency towards foot trouble a visit to a good chiropodist within the next two weeks will pay for itself a dozen times in the amount of comfort you will feel all spring. Foot troubles become acute in the early spring. You should go always before your feet begin to hurt and not wait until you have suffered weeks or months of discomfort, and you should make just as sure that your chiropodist knows his business as you would that your doctor or your dentist knows his.

Assuming, however, that you cannot get to a chiropodist, give your feet this treatment whether you think they need it or not. Soak them for 20 minutes in a basin of hot water containing a little borax. Dry them thoroughly with a rough towel rubbing off the loose skin (a surprising amount will come off) especially between the toes. Rub over the callouses with pumice stone or a strip of pumice board, then rub the feet thoroughly with oil and wear white cotton stockings either all that day or all night, as a great deal of the oil is bound to work out.

This is a general treatment for healthy feet and one that will prevent corns. But if a corn has formed, or is forming, soak a bit of cotton in witch hazel and put over the corn as soon as you take the foot from the water. Proceed as before, then, when you've treated the rest of the foot remove the cotton and shave down the callous skin. Being soft from its immersion in water it will have swollen in size and will shave off easily. It is best to use a corn knife for this, the blade of which has been sterilized. If you are very clever you can use a safety razor blade, but you must have a steady hand and be very careful, for if you cut into the live flesh it is very painful. If you do cut yourself treat the place at once with antiseptics and keep it bound up till it is thoroughly healed.

I. G.—Massage bust gently using cocoa butter to help nourish the tissue.
Alice D.—Unless the dark circles about the eyes come from a passing condition, you should consult a doctor.

Perfume Lover—I should think the odor of violets would be suited to a girl of your description.

Young raccoons are so difficult to find that a reward offered by a museum director during the last three years for a family under a month old, has not been claimed by a trapper.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—If a nation-wide quest were made today for the man who is holding down the "rottenest job," and the petrified prize given to a person other than the director of public safety of Philadelphia, one Brigadier-General Smedley D. Butler, U. S. Marines, who has tasted the bitter and sweet fruits of life, would perhaps throw a full marching order pack on his responsibility-burdened shoulders, arm himself to the teeth and out of a feeling of sheer injustice go gunning for the prize-awarding committee.

That's because General Butler, known all over the country for his leadership in this city's clean-up campaign against vice and crime, sincerely believes that, notwithstanding the claims of sewer explorers, aged egg specialists and those who sample an easily scented cheese to ascertain whether it has wholly expired, he has by far the "rottenest job ever entrusted to mortal man."

Out of an atmosphere of hero worship resulting from his courageous feats as a Marine officer, feats which won for him Congressional commendation and decorations, General Butler now labors in an atmosphere of political intrigue, opposed by the type of politician whose parasitic proclivities revolt at being deprived of political blood money and who strives incessantly to "get something" on the general and to win converts for his gospel of anti-Buterism. He is said to be the objective of thousands of dissatisfied organization men who believe the present administration committed a breach of trust in bringing him here to institute his relentless war on liquor law violators, vice and banditry. He is constantly watched and he admits he has been ostracized by many of his "friends."

For every complimentary slap on the back, General Butler, according to his belief, gets two that aren't sincere—two delivered by hands that haven't ceased to fondle glasses of liquor in private.

"I'm through with them," the safety director remarked. "They've been 'kidding' me, but I've got the goods on them now. I'm on the trail of the hypocrites."

All these things conspire to convince the Marine general that as a clean-up job, his has all others hog-tied for "rottenness."

Were he not possessed of many characteristics that refuse to acknowledge defeat, Butler's intimates say the job would not hold him long, inasmuch as he might be enjoying the pre-clean-up peace of Quantic, Va., and the almost idolatrous esteem of his Marines.

As it is, the "sordidness" of his post has decided him that he must have publicly demonstrated moral support of the citizenry of Philadelphia that favors his activities.

"Whether you people will long have the benefit of my society depends entirely upon yourselves," Butler declared in an appeal for a demonstration. "There is a decided effort being made to run me out as quickly as possible. You've got to show me that you want me."

Unquestionably, Butler has bettered conditions. He claims the city is 35 per cent clean after two months' tireless hammering.

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL FOR HERO

President Gives Highest Honor to Sailor

Henry Breault receiving the congressional medal of honor from President Calvin Coolidge

Henry Breault, torpedoman, second class, U. S. navy, now marches with the most exclusive company of heroes in the world. The company is made up of holders of the congressional medal of honor. This honor outranks Britain's Historic Victoria Cross. He was awarded the medal by President Calvin Coolidge for his intrepid devotion and heroism "above and beyond the call of duty" when the U. S. submarine O-5 sank.

Some degree of success is reflected in the fact that many politicians have found his presence and methods incompatible with the means they employ to gain a livelihood.

In Philadelphia the police department, under the Butler regime, is divorced from politics. Each cop holds his job on his merits and not because of the backing of a petty ward-heeler. In this the safety director has the staunch championship of Mayor Freeland Kendrick. It is understood, however, that the moment political pressure having the sanction of the mayor is brought to bear on political machinery, General Butler will hand in his resignation, order his Marine uniform pressed and puttees shined, and return to "as he was."

A white man, walking along a road where an old colored man was whitewashing a fence, noticed that the brush he was using contained very few bristles.

"What for?" Mistah Smith, what for?" returned Rastus, glancing from the fence to his questioner.

"What for?" expressively replied Mr. Smith. "Why, if you had a brush with more bristles in it you could do twice as much work."

"Dat's all right, Mistah Smith," said Rastus, negatively shaking his head, "but I hain't got twice as much work to do."

POEMS That LIVE

THE MOON

And, like a dying lady lean and pale,
Who totters forth, wrapp'd in a gauzy veil,
Out of her chamber, led by the insane
And feeble wanderings of her fading brain,
The moon arose up in the murky east
A white and shapeless mass.

Art thou pale for weariness
Of climbing heaven and gazing on the earth,
Wandering companionless
Among the stars that have a different birth,
And ever changing, like a joyless eye,
That finds no object worth its constancy?

—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

Crops are influenced by the moon, according to recent experiments, so that seed sown in the time of full moon is aided by all the light shafts vibrating in one direction.

JOINT-EASE For Stiff, Swollen Joints

Rheumatic or Otherwise

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff, inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but, whatever the cause, Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember, Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube. —Advertisement.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S COAT

The bad old Bob Cat, with his silly little tail, sat in the den of the Woolzie Wolf, laughing at him and at the Fuzzy Fox, who was also there.

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled the Bob Cat. "What's so funny?" growled the Wolf.

"To think of you two chaps trying to catch Uncle Wiggily by taking his shoes, and then expecting him to come here to your den to get them back!" laughed the Bob Cat. "That's what's so funny!"

"Was it any funnier than when you went in to nibble his ears and went away with only some bread and sugar?" asked the Fox.

"Of course it was!" giggled the Bob Cat. "I got some bread and sugar. All you chaps got was a tickle in the ribs from the club of the Police Dog. Listen, you didn't do it right!"

"What should we have done?" asked the Wolf.

"Instead of taking Uncle Wiggily's shoes you should have taken his trousers or his hat," spoke the Bob Cat. "You might know he wouldn't come out in the snow in wet shoes to look for a dry pair. A hat or a pair of trousers is different."

"Suppose you try to get Uncle Wiggily here to my den, if you are so smart," growled the Wolf. "We'll leave it to you to play a trick on that rabbit."

"Yes," agreed the Fox. "And if Uncle Wiggily comes here to the Wolf's den to get back something you take away from his hollow stump bungalow, we'll give you some nibbles off his ears."

"I'll do it," promised the Bob Cat.

Over the fields and through the woods he ran with his silly little tail, until he reached the hollow stump bungalow of the rabbit gentleman. As it happened, Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane were out, so the Bob Cat slipped in and took one of Uncle Wiggily's coats.

In its place he left a note which said:

"Come to the den of the Wolf and get your coat. Yours sincerely, I love you dearly."

"I'll sign it that way instead of with a name," the Bob Cat whispered to himself as he hurried out of the bungalow with the rabbit gentleman's coat.

Now, as it happened, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy reached home first that day. The muskrat lady housekeeper hurried into the bungalow and saw the Bob Cat's note in place of Uncle Wiggily's coat.

"The very idea!" squeaked Nurse Jane. "I'll go to the Wolf's den myself and get that coat back!"

But before she went out she wrote another note for Uncle Wiggily, planning it to the one the Bob Cat had left.

"Dear Wiggy," wrote Nurse Jane, "I have gone to the Wolf's den, all by myself, to get your coat back!"

You can imagine how surprised Uncle Wiggily was when he hopped into his hollow stump bungalow and read the two notes.

"Ha! So those bad chaps are up to their tricks again!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "But the worst of it is Nurse Jane has gone to the Wolf's den! And without a Police Dog! I would much rather lose a dozen coats than have her ears nibbled! I must save her!"

Not stopping, even to twinkle his pink nose, Uncle Wiggily hopped over the fields and through the woods, until he reached the den of the Woolzie Wolf. Pausing outside for a moment, the rabbit gentleman listened to voices inside.

"Have you Uncle Wiggily's coat here?" he heard Nurse Jane ask.

"Indeed we have, my dear Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," spoke the Fox in an oily voice and as sweet as molasses.

"Here it is," went on the Bob Cat. "But we can't give it up to anyone but Uncle Wiggily himself. Tell him to come and—" "Here I am now!" cried the brave rabbit gentleman, leaping into the dark and dismal den.

"Oh!" howled the Wolf.

"Oh! Oh!" howled the Fox.

"Oh! Oh! Oh!" howled the Bob Cat.

Then the three bad chaps looked hungrily at the bunny's ears. But Uncle Wiggily was afraid. He had a trick in his mind.

"Where is my coat?" he asked.

"Here," answered the Bob Cat, holding it up.

The rabbit gentleman looked down inside one sleeve and pretended to see something in it, though really nothing was there.

"What have you put in my sleeve?" he asked.

"Why, nothing at all," exclaimed the surprised Bob Cat, and he thrust one paw into a sleeve of the rabbit's coat to show that nothing was there.

"What's in the other sleeve?" asked the bunny.

"Nothing at all," said the Fox, and he put one paw in the second sleeve to show that it was empty.

But no sooner did the Fox and Bob Cat have their paws in the sleeves of his coat than Uncle Wiggily gave the Wolf a push.

He hurried out of the bungalow.

Wending his way over backward, the Wolf fell against the Bob Cat and Fox. And as these two bad chaps were tangled up in the coat, with their paws in the sleeves, where they couldn't get them out, all three went down together in a heap on the floor of the den, all mixed up.

"Come on, Nurse Jane! Never mind my coat; it was an old one that I was going to throw away," cried the bunny. "Let's run."

And out of the Wolf's den they ran, safe and sound, before the bad chaps could untangle themselves from the bunny's old coat.

So everything came out all right, and no ears were nibbled.

Lay Tunnel Blast to I. W. W. Labor Trouble

DENVER, March 21.—An alleged attempt to dynamite the west portal of the Moffat railroad tunnel, being constructed through James Peak, thirty-five miles west of Denver, was revealed with the arrest of Daniel Sullivan, said by officials to be a member of the I. W. W.

According to tunnel officials here, Sullivan is alleged to have planted dynamite at the mouth of the tunnel, following a quarrel with the superintendent. The explosion did little damage.

Charge Federal Taxes Cut Through Employees

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Testimony that the federal tax assessed against large corporations by the Treasury Department had been reduced through efforts of "taxpayers" who were formerly employed in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, has been placed before a special Senate investigating committee.

E. V. Roosmore, former bureau employee, said through his efforts a tax of $23,000,000 against the Standard Oil Company had been reduced tentatively to $5,000,000.

Copper will be used instead of tar for preserving rope in the future, according to experiments made by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

THOMSON SPENDS LEISURE TIME IN RIFLE SHOOTING

Restaurant Man's Hobby Puts Him in Front Rank of U. S. Champions

A. L. Thomson, the junior partner of the firm of Rice & Thomson, who take over the Glen Inn today from the present owners, C. J. Pagone and L. R. Boulais, is proud of his standing as a caterer, but what he really devotes his life to is rifle shooting, and his efforts in this line have brought to him a fame that is shared by few men in California.

All his life Mr. Thomson has been handling firearms, and his ability with both the rifle and revolver are little short of phenomenal. What makes his success even more remarkable is the fact that, four years ago, he met with an accident that compelled him to cease using his right eye when shooting and to depend on his left eye, but even this handicap has failed to keep him out of the front rank of gunners.

Mr. Thomson won the southern California rifle championship in 1919, shooting from the right shoulder. Between the seasons of 1919 and 1920 he lost the sight of his right eye through his gun bursting, and was compelled to study out a method of shooting from the left shoulder. He devoted himself with such enthusiasm to this subject that he won the same title in 1920, shooting from the left side.

His honors started away back in 1915, when he won a place on the national championship team, holding the same place again in 1916, and again in 1923, and he has also held the title of state rifle champion. His best record was made at Jacksonville, Florida, when he finished third in the national individual championship, competing against 1500 of the crackest of crack shots in the country, being the highest civilian entry and being topped only by two army gunners.

Coaches California Team For five years he has been coach of the California rifle team.

Mr. Thomson has shot on the old rifle range in Sycamore Canyon and has hung up some remarkable records there.

BEAR GREETINGS TO NEW U. C. HEAD

Members of Oxy Faculty to Present Address to Dr. W. W. Campbell

President R. D. Bird, Dean Thomas G. Burt, and Dr. William Meade Orr, member of the board of Trustees of Occidental College, will leave tonight for Berkeley to be present at the inauguration, Saturday, March 22, of Dr. Walter Campbell as head of the University of California. President Bird and his party go to the State University as the Occidental representatives and are carrying with them a message from the institution which shows the sincere regard that Occidental College has for the northern university and its new head.

The message of greeting follows: "Dr. W. W. Campbell, University of California. "On the occasion of your inauguration as president of the University of California, Occidental College of Los Angeles, including her administration, faculty, student body and alumni, send you cordial greetings and sincere congratulations. "We congratulate you and the institution you represent upon its admirable achievements in educating and embodying in executive scholarship those educational principles which have, in notable manner, contributed to the advancement of learning in the State, and upon the splendid body of alumni who in distinguished citizenship bear witness throughout the commonwealth to the vitality of their alma mater. Long life to the University of California, and continued success under your leadership."

Local Markets Often Passed Up by Farmer

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Farm products are often shipped great distances when they might be sold with greater profit close at hand, says the United States department of agriculture. Surveys are now being made by the department in various parts of the country to determine the extent of this wasteful practice and to help farmers make readjustments in their farming and marketing to enable them to meet local market demands.

Senators Favor More Men for Coast Guard

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The Senate commerce committee late yesterday favorably reported a bill increasing the personnel of the United States coast guard and authorizing the transfer from the navy department to the coast guard of all vessels that may be used for fighting rum runners.

Baking Bread for Nine Fits Mother for Championship

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 21.—Mrs. James H. McGowan is the mother of nine. She bakes thirty-five to forty loaves of bread a week for them, and has become so proficient in the art of baking that she captured the honors from 1000 others in a contest for the championship of northeast Ohio.

Bread-baking is a hobby with Mrs. McGowan. The excellence of her bread, her friends say, is the result of the great pride she takes in her work.

She uses a recipe that is just a little different from others. Here it is:

(Cut this out, women readers, and paste it in your cook book.) Mix two mashed potatoes, one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons of salt and three cakes of dissolved compressed yeast. Add three quarts of potato water and let rise six hours, or until light.

In the evening sift seven quarts of flour well. Add the liquid starter and three-fourths cup of lard. Mix and knead for fifteen minutes.

Let rise, work down and let rise again before making into pans.

College Course Hard In Japan, Says Doctor

BERKELEY, Cal., March 21.—University graduates in Japan are babies in society and entirely unpolished, aside from the finish of a scientific education, according to Dr. Takahashi, professor of geology and mineralogy of the Tohoku Imperial University, at Sendai, Japan, who is spending four months in research work and the study of oil at the University of California. Dr. Takahashi thinks the American way of combining social activities with a college education is much better than the Japanese method of all work and no play. The higher institutions in Japan allow neither diverting pleasures nor athletics, but are conducted solely for the pursuit of knowledge.

The university from which Dr. Takahashi comes is the only imperial university which admits women as regular students. As a general rule, the courses are too heavy, and the Japanese women are too weak to stand the strain, but at the Tohoku University five of the 2000 students are women. However, Japan is progressing, and Dr. Takahashi expressed the opinion that before long women will be admitted to the other higher institutions.

The Tohoku University of Sendai was established fifteen years ago and has grown rapidly. That there are but 2000 students enrolled is accounted for by the fact that the entrance examinations are so exceedingly difficult.

Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn said:—"When cake is placed in the oven, the temperature adjusted, the alarm clock set for the time it is to be taken out, then the mother may leave the kitchen without worrying to remember the time. The same method may be used for roasts, bread or canning. It requires but a moment to set the alarm clock and will save watching. When one has to remember so many important things, it is a relief to have some of the burden removed."

The headline announceth—"Many Upsets In Dog Show." One of our alley cats must have crashed the gate and made some sarcastical remark to those poodles.

Professor Clifton of Monrovia maintains that the young people of today have more temptations than the young people of the past, naming the automobile as one of the worst, such as was not known in the past. How about that old Sunday night boss, professor, that would jog peacefully along with the reins draped over the dashboard?

Another momentous discovery has been made—how the foot and mouth disease got into this country. Helen Doty, the youngest chorine in Flo Ziegfeld's shows, declares that the reason so many chorus girls fall in the chorus is because they are not content to confine their efforts to dancing. As soon as they open their mouths to sing they put their foot in it, so to speak.

A violog is a bump meter and has just been adopted by the state highway commissioners to locate bumps in the boulevards. Official efficiency is a wonderful thing, is it not? Flivver owners have been equipped with viologs for years, never missing a bump, but have always called them by another name.

Helen Ferguson, movie star, gets a new nose through a surgical operation, thereby improving her looks to such an extent that she also got a new job. Wonder if a new nose wouldn't improve some of our snoopy neighbors and help them to find something else to do?

NAGGING WIFE IS BOON, SAYS DOC

Oked If She Causes Hubby To Take Precaution For Health

By ROLAND KREBS
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The nagging woman probably is prolonging the life of her husband rather than shortening it, according to the theory of Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute of New York, who submitted his data in the National Museum in Washington.

A wife's nagging, he ventured, did much good if it caused her husband to take precautions to protect his health. Married men, he said, live longer than those who remain bachelors.

Dr. Fisk said that more than half the people were sick, but did not know it. He believes there are few diseases that cannot be prevented.

He endorsed periodical examinations, particularly of the eyes and teeth. He estimated that among the working classes there are 25,000,000 persons with defective sight and as many with faulty teeth.

The physician put the economic loss to the nation each year, resulting from preventable diseases, at $3,000,000,000.

Dr. Fisk declared that human intelligence, if applied, could alter the fact that average men are at their best between the ages of 18 and 31 and that the limit of their working span is 42 to 45 years.

Leases for Oil Lands of Indians Sell High

PAWHUSKA, Okla., March 21.—Sale of oil leases in the Osage Indian nation, the Burbank field, brought $14,193,800, the largest sum ever received from a similar sale here, it was announced last yesterday after all bids had been verified.

In the last ten minutes of bidding the high record for bids on a 160 acre tract was broken for the fourth time since the sale started when the Empire Oil and Gas company paid $1,990,000 for the tract. Members of the Osage Indian council will meet here soon to formally approve the sale.
